Solon Charges Patronage Bribe Offered Senator Dill

SEN. ASHURST TELLS STORY AT HEARINGS

Says Washington Democrat Offered Judgeship to Cast Vote For Parker DENIAL IS NOT MADE

Senator Declares He Didn't Take Offer Seriously And Tells of Details

WASHINGTON, May 6.—(UP)—The patronage bribe charges involved in the Parker nomination were brought into open discussion in the senate today.

Senator Henry L. Ashurst, Democrat, Arizona, under prodding by administration senators, declared he had been informed by Senator Clarence Dill, Democrat, Washington, that a federal judgeship had been offered him in return for a vote to confirm John J. Parker, as supreme court justice.

Dill made a statement to the senate stating he had not taken the offer seriously and telling the details of it. He said "a gentleman" from his state had come to him and told him the administration was ready to "reward with almost anything" those who would vote for Parker.

Republican Leader, Watson moved to hold up further debate on Parker until Monday, pending an investigation of the Ashurst charges by the judiciary committee. Parker opponents declared an investigation would not be necessary in view of the statement on the floor.

Dill's reaction was dramatic. He spoke in such a husky voice that senators asked him to speak louder so they might hear him.

"I have hesitated to inject myself into this disturbance," he said. "All the senator from Arizona has said in good faith, but he is mistaken."

"Well, then, tell what you told me in the presence of Senator Bratton, Democrat, New Mexico, at lunch the other day," shouted Ashurst.

"All right," said Dill. "I was talking about being impressed with the pressure that was being brought to bear on me to vote for Judge Parker. I told about a gentleman from my own state who suggested I would be in high favor with the administration if I should vote for Parker."

"I was amused at the gentleman's statement and tried to draw him out. He told me I would be rewarded with anything I wanted."

"I told him the trouble was I did not want anything."

"He said, 'well judgeships are always open.'"

"I told him I would rather be a private citizen than a judge when I retired."

"I did not at any time consider it as a challenge to my integrity. I did not think it would justify any thing serious being said about it."

The crowded senate was alert with interest as Senator Allen, Republican, Kansas, demanded to know whom Ashurst was referring to in his patronage bribe charges made yesterday and reiterated today.

"Who was the senator who was approached?" he demanded.

Ashurst answered the senator was present in the chamber and could speak for himself. He looked around toward Dill, but the latter did not arise.

"All right," he shouted, his face

YOUNG ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY FOR GOVERNOR

School Board In Deadlock With Council

Possibility of Site North of Santa Clara Avenue Is Discussed

THE BOARD of education today was still in a deadlock with the city council and the planning commission on the site chosen at the southeast corner of Flower street and Santa Clara avenue for the new Jefferson school to be constructed in the northwest section of the city.

Representatives of the three bodies were in session yesterday afternoon to discuss the situation, and the final result was a decision to investigate the possibility of acquiring a site of four or five acres on the north side of Santa Clara avenue, immediately east of Heliotrope Drive, extended.

The preferred site would involve properties belonging to Harry M. Smith and Chris Petz, 541 West Santa Clara avenue. As discussed, use of this site would not necessarily interfere with the extension of Heliotrope Drive or Bonnie Brae avenue.

Councilmen present were F. L. Purinton, W. J. Kelly, J. L. McBride and Bert Sutton. The board of education was represented by Drs. John Ball and Roy Horton and the commission by George R. Wells, president, Mrs. Clara Cushman, secretary, and Fred Crowell.

The members of the council and commission reiterated former statements that they were opposed to location of the school building on what not only promises to be one of the most beautiful streets of the city but one of the best residential districts of the city. It was their position that a site be found where location of a school would do less damage to established residential properties and that would be off a main major artery.

The school board maintained its objection to locating the school on Santa Clara avenue west of Flower street on the ground that the children would have to cross a main thoroughfare in order to reach the school. Dr. Horton said that investigations he had made in Los Angeles had convinced him that construction of a tunnel under the street for use by school children would be useless. He declared that it had been demonstrated in Los Angeles that school children would not use the underground passageways unless policemen were present to force them to use it.

It was asserted by the school

Shaw Urges Death As Poverty Cure

LONDON, May 6.—(UP)—George Bernard Shaw's cure for poverty would be to kill everyone earning less than $3000 a year or wanting more. G. Sylvester Veireck quoted the dramatist as saying, in his new book published here yesterday.

Veireck's book, "Glimpses of the Great," includes a series of interviews with Shaw, former Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany, Henry Ford and J. Ramsay MacDonald. Discussing poverty, Veireck quoted Shaw as saying:

"I should prohibit poverty by putting to death every person earning less than $3000 a year, or asking for more."

SHULER LOCKED UP WITH GROUP OF "RIFF RAFF"

"Fighting Bob" Refuses to Be Interviewed After Night in Jail

LOS ANGELES, May 6.—(UP)—The Rev. R. P. "Bob" Shuler, militant pastor of the Trinity Methodist church, was prisoner No. 125199 today as he started serving the 20 day sentence imposed on him with a $100 fine for contempt of court.

The six counts of contempt of which the minister was found guilty resulted from his vigorous radio sermons in which he berated Judges Walton Wood and Marshall McComb of the superior bench for the manner in which they handled certain of the Julian Petroleum collapse cases.

Sentence was passed by Judge Clair Tappan yesterday and the Rev. Mr. Shuler surrendered to the jailer and was given the customary blue denim garb worn by county prisoners.

He may not broadcast from his cell, even by remote control, which was suggested but disapproved by jailer Clem Peoples—and will not be allowed to preach to his fellow prisoners.

"He is just another misdeed, to be given no special privileges," Peoples said.

The caste system in the Los Angeles county jail resulted in the minister being denied the "aristocracy" of the jail where prisoners of the Alexander Panatier-Asa Reyes variety were domiciled. Instead, the Rev. Mr. Shuler was locked up with a group of petty thieves, and "riff raff."

Shuler, according to jailers, dropped off to sleep on his hard cell cot about 9 p. m. and slept so well that he was bright eyed and cheery at 6 a. m. when he was served oatmeal, milk and sugar—the jail breakfast.

A bevy of newspapermen greeted the minister after he completed a few routine jail tasks and received the surprise of their lives when Shuler—usually very willing to talk—declined to comment on his first night of incarceration.

The minister was forced to give up attendance at a Methodist conference in Dallas, Tex. He also was forced to cancel a baccalaureate sermon he was to have delivered at Emory and Henry college, Va.

Disorders In India Break Early Today

Mobs of Indian Nationalists Protest Arrest of Mahatma Gandhi

CALCUTTA, May 6.—(UP)—Serious disorders broke out in the Calcutta district today as mobs of Indian nationalists protested the arrest of the Mahatma M. K. Gandhi.

The district magistrate and police superintendent were stoned, a police picket was attacked and a mob stoned a strong police patrol. In each case the police were forced to fire on the rioters to scatter them.

Stone throwing and hostile demonstrations in which several persons including at least one European, were injured occurred in the mill district of Bombay. A group of Europeans living in a suburb were delayed by hostile parades and rowdy demonstrators when they entered the city by automobile.

A mob of 3000 persons attempted to derail a train near Howrah, across the river from Calcutta, was fired on by police. Several persons, including a British police sergeant, were injured before the crowd was scattered.

Riots were reported from Ranagun in Burma, where foreign cloth was burned after clothes had been torn from passersby. Volunteers picked up order. The great Indian Peninsula railway workshops were going under full pressure, but only half of the workers were on the job at the Bombay-Baroda Central Indian railway shops. Nationalist mill workers were making every effort in Bombay to force workers to cease work, even hurling stones at those who refused.

The European who was injured in the mill district was Professor George Berger.

Volunteers paraded the streets here all day, continuing the hartal or passive strike which has temporarily closed 50 per cent of the textile mills.

A crowd held a demonstration in front of a mill, attempting to break down the doors and set the place afire. A mill official fired with a revolver, injuring one, and the men bolted.

The Great Indian Peninsula railway workshop at Mitunka was closed after the dinner hour.

SIXTH EXPLOSION VICTIM DIES

LIVERPOOL, Eng., May 6.—(UP)—The death toll from the explosion and fire in the Bibby oil cake mills here was increased to six today with the death of one of the injured persons.

Shuler, according to jailers, dropped off to sleep on his hard cell cot about 9 p. m. and slept so well that he was bright eyed and cheery at 6 a. m. when he was served oatmeal, milk and sugar—the jail breakfast.

A bevy of newspapermen greeted the minister after he completed a few routine jail tasks and received the surprise of their lives when Shuler—usually very willing to talk—declined to comment on his first night of incarceration.

The minister was forced to give up attendance at a Methodist conference in Dallas, Tex. He also was forced to cancel a baccalaureate sermon he was to have delivered at Emory and Henry college, Va.

CHIEF EXECUTIVE WILL SEEK RE-ELECTION ON RECORD HE HAS MADE IN LAST 4 YEARS

SACRAMENTO, May 6.—(UP)—Declaring his administration record to be his campaign platform, Governor C. C. Young today formally announced his candidacy for re-election.

"I regard a governor as business manager of the enormously important and intricate business of the state," he said. "As manager I believe I have accomplished many things worth while and have under way many important tasks yet incomplete."

The announcement follows:

To the citizens of California:

"Four years ago I came before you as Republican candidate for governor, equipped with a long legislative experience and eight years as lieutenant governor, and earnestly desirous to render to my state a sound, business-like administration of its affairs. Today I come before you again, seeking re-nomination to this office if in your judgment my record as governor entitles me to a second term.

Governor As Business Manager

"I regard a governor as business manager of the enormously important and intricate business of the state. As manager I believe I have accomplished many things worth while, and have under way many important tasks yet incomplete. I am asking for a second term in order that I may complete these tasks, just as a business manager who has labored hard and faithfully may justly expect that his stockholders should not displace him in favor of someone else without his experience or first-hand knowledge of the business."

"This principle is no new thing in government. We re-elect the mayors of our cities term after term, believing that the experience gained during a previous term is a valuable asset for future service to the city. Of our last three governors, two have been elected after previous service in the office. We commonly elect our presidents for a second term, and are looking forward to the re-election of our California president two years from now."

Candid Statement of Policies

"I have never tried to conceal my stand on any public question. For example, every Californian knows my conviction that as long as the eighteenth amendment is the law of the land it must be observed and enforced as such. I have no sympathy with a candidacy that compromises this issue or seeks to undermine or weaken the fundamental law. Yet many who disagree with me in such matters have helped to elect me, twice as lieutenant governor and once as governor, simply because my position has been well known and I have not tried to evade the issue."

Surplus of $29,000,000

"The four years of our present administration have placed our state finances on an exceedingly sound and healthy basis. Despite appropriations made for much-needed new institutions, such as a state hospital, new prisons and the like, and despite the assistance

ANNUAL P.-T. A. MEETING OPENS IN RIVERSIDE

RIVERSIDE, Calif., May 6.—(UP)—The 31st annual convention of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers formally was opened today by Mrs. R. L. Cardiff of Santa Cruz, president.

Last night the more than 2000 delegates and visitors attended a reception to state officers at Memorial auditorium. The affair concluded a pre-convention meeting of the board of managers.

The other addresses concerned the problems in rural schools and was delivered by Miss Helen Heffernan, chief, division of rural education, state department of education.

The afternoon session was devoted to departmental conferences, at which classes in various subjects pertinent to parent-teacher education were held.

Parental education will be under the direction of state department of education officials. A class for fathers meets tonight at the Congregational church.

Mrs. Hugh Bradford and Dr. Tully Knowles were scheduled to address the general session tonight at which national officers and chairman and past state presidents will be introduced.

Stocks Make Big Recovery In New York

Gains Range From One to 5 Points and Some Go Up as High as 35

NEW YORK, May 6.—(UP)—The stock market made a sweeping recovery today and ruled strong to the close.

Trading was cut down sharply from yesterday's volume and conditions were returning to normal after a crash that culminated near the close yesterday and wiped out ten billion dollars in market value from stocks listed.

Today's rally was a combination of short covering, investment buying by individuals, investment trusts, and other institutions. Gains ranged from 1 to 5 points with a few higher priced stocks up as much as 35 points.

A billion dollars was added to market valuation in the rise.

There were only a few brief periods of selling and no attempt was made to bring about another reaction.

For a time tickers were abreast of the market, but in the late trading, demand took on wider proportions. However, at 2:30 the tape lagged only two minutes.

U. S. Steel was a strong spot all day, but its rise was not spectacular. At one time the issue was at 175, up 3 1/4 points from the previous close. It later held around 173 1/2.

Spectacular advances were made by American Tobacco shares, the B stock soaring 16 points to a new record high at 261 while the common rose 7 to a new record at 252. Lorillard and other tobacco shares were strong.

Other wide gains were made by Radio Corporation, Westinghouse Electric, Eastman Kodak, United Aircraft, New York Central, Auburn Auto, New Haven, Western Union, North American and Electric Power and Light, all up 7 points.

J. I. Case was a sensation, soaring 35 1/4 points to 324 at one time. During the break the stock lost nearly 87 points from its high made earlier in the year.

Utilities, Oils, Ralls, Amusements and Harvester shares were sharply higher, and substantial gains were made by such special issues as Allied Chemical, Johns-Manville, Stone and Webster, Colorado Fuel, Commercial Credit, Worthington Pump and Lehman Corporation.

Coppers were the only weak shares, Anaconda being driven down nearly 4 points to a new low at 52 1/4. A cut to 12 1/2 cents a pound was announced today by some custom smelters following a decline by producers to 13 cents a pound domestic shipment yesterday.

LARGE SHOE CONCERN TO OPEN PLANT

Walter Hill, Son of Builder of Great Northern to Develop Huge Holdings MILLIONS INVOLVED

Company Plans to Provide Ideal Homes of Staff of Over 200 Employees

INVOLVING millions of dollars in property, Walter J. Hill, son of the late James J. Hill, builder of the Great Northern Railroad, has acquired Midway City and adjoining land and will create a high class industrial city, it was revealed today by John R. Harper, associated with his father, John S. Harper, in selling the property.

Harper declared that among the firms which will locate in Midway City is the shoe manufacturing concern of Randall R. Scott and Sons, now located at 428 Boyd street, Los Angeles.

The concern is a closed corporation and has no stock for sale, it was declared. The company employs 35 people at the present time and within a year expects to have 200 men and women on its payroll.

The shoe company will occupy the brick building in the center of the community. This structure is 50 by 150 feet in size. The firm expects to start moving in May 15, with production scheduled to start in June.

Harper said the company's reason for locating in Midway City was its desire to expand and at the same time provide ideal home conditions for its employees.

Hill acquired 125 lots in Midway City and six houses, and 105 acres adjoining the community on the east and 20 acres on the north and extending to Seventeenth street.

The Harpers, who were founders of Midway City, acquired in the transaction, 437 acres in Red River valley, Minnesota, 1600 acres near Savage, Montana, a three story business building in the heart of St. Paul and the Hill mansion in the same city.

The lots acquired by Hill include all the unsold portion in the subdivided area of Midway City.

According to Harper, negotiations now under way are expected to result in several industrial firms locating in Midway City in the near future. Among these are oil well equipment concern.

"Mr. Hill is firmly convinced of the future of Orange county and believes that Midway City is destined to become a thriving industrial center," Harper declared today. "He is widely travelled and knows conditions all over the world, so Orange county may well feel complimented that he has seen fit to become interested in the development of Midway City."

The new owner of Midway City made a thorough investigation of the county and became convinced that there was a great need for an industrial community.

"With the arrival of factories, a corresponding increase in the population is expected. For example, the shoe company's employees will all move to Midway City and as other firms locate here, they will bring their employees."

BELOVED POLICEMAN DIES IN ST. LOUIS

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 6.—(UP)—Joseph A. Schneider, a traffic "cop" with a big heart, died today.

Policeman Schneider could unsnarl a traffic jam without losing his temper, and he and his wife adopted 34 orphans during the course of their marriage.

When the 54-year-old man passed away after long suffering from paralysis at breakfast time this morning, there were 29 of those adopted children who sobbed in another room of the Schneider flat.

"But I packed most of them off to school to avoid confusion," said the widow, "and the others went to work—I made them."

Two Ryan Heirs Say Grandmother Too Old Fashioned

NEW YORK, May 6.—(UP)—Two grandchildren who are among the principal heirs in the huge estate of the late Thomas Fortune Ryan, Wall Street financier, have asked a court to remove their maternal grandmother as a guardian because she is too old fashioned.

The children, Elinor M. Ryan, 17, and Joseph J. Ryan, 15, seek to replace Mrs. Ellen M. Morse, of Ridge road, Washington, D. C., as one of the guardians because, they said, she is ignorant of modern methods of living. Judgment was reserved by the court.

Both of the children of the dead financier's son, Joseph, receive the income from 5/54ths of the estate, estimated to be worth between $100,000,000 and $500,000,000, and to receive the principal when they are 30.

LIGHT VOTE SEEN FOR INDIAN TODAY

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 6.—(UP)—In an atmosphere politically listless, Indiana's polls opened today for the state's off-year primary election.

Predictions generally were that the balloting would be exceptionally light because of a dearth of outstanding controversial issues and the fact that no high offices were at stake.

The ballots listed a record number of candidates. Whatever interest had been aroused in the election centered principally on nominations of congressional candidates in six of 13 districts, in addition to legislators, judges and prosecutors.

Prohibition has been a leading issue in several districts, particularly among Democratic candidates.

Airplane Used In Rushing Serum To Infant In Cairo

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, May 6.—(UP)—A tube of serum rushed from Paris by airplane to save the life of a Cairo baby was in the hands of the child's father, Elie Catz, en route to Cairo in a dramatic mile a minute race to catch a fast express train.

Catz, who received the anti-toxin from an Imperial Airways pilot at the field here, rushed to catch his train but was too late by a few minutes. Police telephoned for the train to wait at Sidi Gaber, a suburb while the Airways manager drove Catz five miles to the station.

They went through the streets at neck-break speed behind a motorcycle escort and Catz safely boarded the train.

ONE KILLED AND THREE ARE HURT IN AUTOMOBILE WRECK

One man was killed and three others seriously injured at 2 o'clock this afternoon when a truck on which 10 Filipinos were riding, overturned a half mile west of the Greenville school house on the Greenville road.

The dead man was Ceferino Mateo, who, with all the others on the truck at the time, lived at Second and Baker streets.

Those injured were Costales Opostol Pasqua, severe internal injuries, Daniel Boloalo and Francisco Apostol. They were rushed to the Orange county hospital.

According to other men on the truck, Mateo was going too fast to negotiate a curve in the road. The truck rolled over on him, killing him instantly.

F. W. Howard, of the sheriff's office, answered an emergency call and sent the body to the Winbiger Funeral home where Coroner Brown will hold an inquest probably tomorrow afternoon.

The other men on the truck were Hilario Nicholas, Edwardo Cochola, Marcus Costales, Andres Costales, Emilio Tomas and Branlio Ragonon.

Congress Asked To Preserve Ocean Rocks For Public

PHIL D. SWING WEEKS ACTION IN HOUSE BILL

A house bill introduced by Representative Phil D. Swing is expected to prevent rocks and islands near Laguna Beach from falling into private ownership, according to word received today by the board of supervisors.

The bill, entitled "A bill to reserve for public use the scenic rocks, pinnacles, reefs and islands along the seacoast of Orange county, California," provides for the withdrawal from private of all such islands less than two acres in extent within one mile of the Orange county coast line. Previous action taken by the government in response to protests against the private ownership of such rocks and islands was an executive order by President Hoover temporarily withdrawing all such islands along the entire coast of California.

Supervisors today, who had authorized the county planning commission to take the necessary steps to get descriptions of the property involved, sent a communication to Swing approving the bill he has introduced and asking if any further steps were necessary on the part of the county to preserve the rocks for the public use and benefit.

Chief among other matters that occupied the attention of the board today at the morning session was request of the city authorities of San Clemente for county aid in widening the state highway for a distance of two miles through the Spanish village, Thomas Murphy, mayor, and William Ayer, city engineer, requested definite action on the plan whereby it had been agreed previously that the county would share part of the cost.

The officials declared that communications from the state assured payment by that political body of the cost of a 10-foot strip of the road. The county was asked to guarantee the cost of one-fourth of the remainder of 26 feet necessary to make a 36-foot street. This amount came to $90,748, according to figures prepared by Ayer on the basis of estimates furnished by state engineers.

The board was loath to accept such a high estimate, which made the county share run about $45,000 per mile, and requested County Highway Superintendent Nat Neff to check the estimates and see if the cost could not be lowered. Under the proceedings under which the road is being built, the contribution of the county would have to be in the form of an outright cash donation.

The resignation of Frank Wilson, justice of the peace of Alamitos township, was accepted on the motion of Supervisor John Mitchell, who also moved the appointment of Fred J. Smith as new justice. Smith was appointed. A letter from the Los Alamitos Chamber of Commerce was read, in which the appointment of James R. Watts was recommended. Contract for paving a little over one-quarter of a mile on Palm avenue, as the first link of a boulevard from Anaheim to Costa Mesa, was let by the board to Atkinson and Reish. The bid was $7036.

The board approved a lease form for the use of a certain right-of-way over county property by the Standard Oil company, in connection with their proposed drilling operations on the Irvine ranch near Newport Beach, specifying that a culvert should be placed under the fill and that the lease should extend for two years, after which time it might be terminated upon 60 days' notice.

board members that 95 per cent of the pupils attending the school would have to cross Flower street if the school were built west of that thoroughfare.

Announcing that the board of education had received an opinion from Sam Cohn, deputy state superintendent of public instruction, to the effect that the city council did not have the final say in the selection of a site for schools, Dr. Ball said that it ought to be possible for the three groups to agree on a site location without regard as to who had the final say. However, it is believed that Cohen rendered his opinion without taking into consideration that this is a city of the fifth class, state laws for which specifically require final approval of a school site by the city council.

The council and commission representatives said they would approve the suggested site on the north side of Santa Clara avenue, which it is expected would cost between $20,000 and $25,000, depending on the amount of land purchased. It was pointed out that should the board of education purchase the Flower street site he would be liable for assessments for the improvement of that street, amounting to around $15,000. It was said the assessment would be $10 a front foot.

THREE SANTA ANA GROUPS WIN APPLAUSE LAST NIGHT IN MUSIC WEEK PROGRAMS

By RUTH ANDREWS

Filling Santa Ana high school auditorium to capacity, enthusiastic worshippers at the shrine of music gathered eagerly again last night to enjoy the second offering of the novel concert series being presented nightly as part of the nationwide festival which is being celebrated in thousands of cities throughout the United States in honor of National Music week.

Last night's program featured three of Santa Ana's best loved organizations, of whom citizens of this community grow increasingly proud—the Santa Ana Municipal band, directed by D. C. Clanton; Santa Ana Cantando club, male chorus of 40, led by Leon Eckles; and the American Legion Auxiliary chorus, of which Cecile Willis is director. Co-operation of these three musical groups made possible a real treat for the audience that will long live in memory.

Led by Ralph Smedley, with Miss Lizzetta Phillips at the piano, community singing opened the program, being followed by a surprise feature, the spirited singing of Clanton's new song, "The City of Music," by Margherita Marsden, favorite local soprano, with Allen Lair as accompanist. The new song has been dedicated to Santa Ana by Clanton, and will be featured each night throughout the festival.

The band opened with a stirring march from the pen of its own director, "The Triumphant March to Rome." Its keenly accented rhythms triumphant with vigorous display of brass, a paean of victory that brought warm applause.

One of the most favored, widely known numbers in musical repertoire, a masterful rendition of Liszt's celebrated "Hungarian Rhapsody No. 2," thrilled deeply with its blending of Magyar and gypsy strains, this fine symphonic portrayal marked by real musicianship.

Dramatic opening minor chords investing the melancholy lasso with gravity, were read by Clanton, with poetic restraint, while boisterous contrast was dramatically met in the frenzied frisks movement, its flashingly mixed changes of tempo and shading so characteristic of the Hungarian gypsy dances. The abrupt staccato closing was breath taking and was vigorously applauded.

That popular and appealing group, the American Legion Auxiliary chorus, never was more effective than in the appearance last night under Cecile Willis' capable direction, with Miss Ruth Armstrong's ever adaptable support as accompanist a source of real joy. Dreamy poetry of Cadman's "Pale Moon," with its suggestive hint of Indian romance, found jolly contrast in Mana-Zucca's mischievous "Big Brown Bear" and Akst's catchy Southern lyric, "Dinah" in which Mrs. Willis took solo honors. Continued applause brought as a spirited encore the popular "Happy Days Are Here Again."

Trobbingly colorful, with its suggestion of Oriental instrumentation and wealth of lovely melody, the band's rendition of the appealing selection of varied themes from Romberg's recent operatic success "The Desert Song," did not fail to win the customary favor accorded this great favorite with lovers of beautiful music.

The immortal "Sextette" from Donizetti's "Lucia," likewise never ceases to thrill, and its impassioned melody was played with true feeling by Clanton, D'Amico, Giargiari, Case, Pupillo and Hanson, in response to many requests. Continued applause finally brought as an encore the equally favored "Quartet" from "Rigoletto," this Verdi masterpiece being offered by Clanton, D'Amico, Giargiari, and Pupillo.

GOVERNOR ASKS RE-ELECTION ON PAST RECORD

we are now giving the counties by sharing the expense of providing aid for the indigent aged and the needy blind. We have so rigidly held down our general state expenditures that we now have a cash surplus of more than $25,000,000, the highest in the history of the state, a net gain of $6,000,000 during these four years.

Governmental Activities Co-ordinated

"During the past four years we have added greatly to the efficiency of our state government and to the economy of its operation by combining 130 disorganized and dependent boards and commissions into 13 strong departments, each charged with carrying out its own major governmental function. The directors of these departments form a Governor's Council, and each month in a two-day conference with the governor review and discuss every governmental activity of each department during the preceding month. Thus, for the first time, the governor, as the state's business manager, is kept in constant touch with every detail of the state's business."

Major Accomplishments

"Among material accomplishments of the present administration is the helpful assistance which has been given to Boulder dam in bringing toward fruition this tremendously important undertaking; the elation of President Hoover's aid in the solution of California's water problems, so vital to agriculture and industry; the conservation of our fish and game, our forest-covered watersheds, our state parks and beaches, and our exceedingly valuable oil and gas resources; the comprehensive measures for agricultural relief and finally, California's marvelous highway development—the greatest road building program ever carried on in this or any other state."

Humanitarian Achievements

"Among humanitarian achievements is our aid to crippled children and to the blind and aged; our appropriations for a separate women's prison, and for an intermediate prison for youthful first offenders, thus separating them from hardened criminals and relieving the present congestion in San Quentin; our strict enforcement of safety regulations and the consequent reduction in the number of industrial deaths; our increased legislation of recent years; our new state hospital in Southern California, and the splendid development of other state institutions; our legislative program for veterans' welfare, including the home purchase act for former service men; and finally, our educational program, especially the school survey now being carried on to determine what improvements may be made in California's educational system."

Has Enjoyed Job

"These are a few of the governmental accomplishments of the present administration—accomplishments by which I must be judged. The work of a governor is never-ending but the problems he has to solve are so interesting and so important that I have keenly enjoyed this opportunity for service. If you who are the voters believe that it has been a service well performed and that I have kept the faith, I shall be happy to dedicate to it another four years of my life, enabling me to complete the many tasks in which I am now engaged. I am content to leave the issue in your hands."

very red and his hair dishevelled.

"I will tell."

"Last Saturday noon in the presence of Senator Bratton, a senator sitting in this chamber told me an offer of a judgeship had been made to him."

"Yes, but who was it?" again demanded Allen.

Ashurst looked around at Dill again and then said in a low voice which nevertheless could be heard throughout the chamber, "Senator Dill."

It was then Dill arose and made his statement.

Dill said there was no need of an investigation.

"The gentleman who talked to me," he said, "was a personal friend who did not claim to have any assurance from President Hoover, but indicated he could do a lot for me at home."

"I regret the matter should have been given all this fanfare in the newspapers."

Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, agreed it would have been better if the incident had never been mentioned.

"But since it has gone as far as it has, the senator ought to tell us who was the man who made the suggestion to him. Did he have connections politically or otherwise?"

"He was a private citizen with no political connections," Dill replied. "I don't see any use in dragging him into it because I did not take it seriously. The sooner the whole thing is forgotten, the better for all concerned."

"But I don't want people to think I would not resent such an offer seriously made, I am not so sensitive, however, that when a personal friend talks to me I resent it and break off years of friendship. The whole matter is ridiculous to me."

"Did he have any particular interest in Judge Parker?" Senator Glass, Democrat, Virginia, asked.

"No, but he was a Republican and the kind that wants anything the Republicans want," Dill replied.

"He was just passing through here."

CLAIM THREAT MADE AGAINST CITY COUNCIL

Assertions by councilmen that the General Electric company sought a monopoly of the business of supplying glassware for ornamental lighting systems in Santa Ana and that the company had made threats against the city if glass of other manufacture was used in systems here, featured a "spat" between the council and Asa Hoffman, spokesman for a group of East First street, property owners appearing at the meeting last night to urge that the council specify General Electric glassware in the system soon to be installed on that street.

Neolite globes have been specified in the plans and specifications for the first street system, councilmen supporting the new type of ware on the ground that it diffuses the light rays better and that the cost of lighting the system would be less than with the G. E. product.

"The General Electric company has had a monopoly here in the matter of furnishing glassware and was demanding high prices for its product until we decided to introduce the Neolite glassware," said Councilman J. L. McBride, as he hurled the further charge that the company had made threats against the city if another product were substituted in systems here.

Hoffman declared that the property owners wanted uniformity and that they wanted in the G. E. globe because it is in use in the Main and Bush street systems that extend to First street. He said property owners should have choice in the matter as they would have to foot the bill for installation.

The Neolite globe corresponds to that of the G. E. in shape and size, according to the councilmen, who asserted that no one could tell the difference between the two types.

The request of Hoffman and his associates for a change in the type of glassware was taken under advisement for two weeks, the property owners in the meantime being privileged to circulate a petition for ascertaining the sentiment of all owners on the street. Intimation was made by the council that a change in the specifications would be made if 51 per cent of the owners, or more, indicated by petition a preference for the General Electric glassware.

Consideration of the first street problem occupied nearly the full time of the council, the body acting only on a few other minor matters. Among the minor items was the adoption of resolutions directing plans for installation of an ornamental lighting system on Birch street, south from Fairview avenue to Tract No. 352, a distance of two blocks.

Santa Ana Men Win Big Lawsuit

L. S. Leeson and G. E. Lindley, of Santa Ana, who were sued last November by Polly Look, of San Bernardino, for cancellation of a contract and return of certain stock she had given in exchange for a lot on Panorama Heights, the exclusive subdivision that the Santa Ana men developed, were given judgment by Judge Homer G. Ames today following trial of the action in his court.

The plaintiff failed to appear to prosecute the action today when the case appeared on the calendar of the court, and M. B. Wellington, who represented the defendants in court, pointed out that the contract was valid and that the exchange of stock and property resulted in more than a fair deal for the San Bernardino woman.

BOY TO BE IN ORANGE COUNTY BENEFIT SHOW

Residents of the county are to see a local boy who has reached the top rungs of the ladder of vaudeville fame in the all-star theatrical presentation featuring Radio-Keith-Orpheum headliners opening Friday night in the Anaheim open-air theater under the auspices of the Orange County Peace Officers' association.

He is George Lazaroni, of Anaheim, of the team of Joy and Lazaroni, whirlwind skating duo. Since leaving Orange county seven years ago, he has achieved sensational success for his whirlwind evolutions on the rollers. He is teamed with Joy Edwards, a Chicago girl, who is one of the few girls to attain the pinnacle as a skater. Joy and Lazaroni enjoy the distinction of being the first western produced vaudeville act to play in New York City.

During their engagements at the Paramount and Roxy theaters in Manhattan they were given an ovation.

In Ray Hughes and Pam, singing and dancing comedians, the audience at the Anaheim open-air benefit will see a nationally famed headline act that has never been presented locally before. Other R-K-O acts, equally famed in their respective specialties, include Harvey, Henny and Grace, blackface stars; Lucinda and Ricardo, dancing favorites of South America and Mexico; the Sailor Comedy Four, nationally known quartet; the Wallace Adagio Five, sensational dancers; and Manny Harmon's R-K-O-ians, leading orchestral organization of the circuit.

It is expected that final arrangements will be completed today for other feature acts, including another famed star whose home is in Orange county, who will appear with the R-K-O stars.

In anticipation of a last minute rush for tickets, the general committee, headed by Chief James Pearson and Sergeant John Gregory, of the Fullerton police department, today broadcast an appeal to residents to procure their seats in advance at any police station, the sheriff's office or from any peace officer in the county.

DEATHS

A WORD OF COMFORT

As you inevitably attempt to visualize what Paradise is meaning to your dearest one, be content with the certainty that it "must" tally with what is best in nature. It cannot be inferior in tone to the already known works of the Artist who sculptsures the globes of the firmament and writes the moral law.

Probably it is just as well for you that you do not know more about it than you do, lest it divert your attention from the important tasks which are committed to you here and now.

It is sufficient to rest in the assurance that whatever would give scope to the widest capacities of your beloved is now being experienced and that before long you will be sharing in its blessed joys.

Like stones in a mighty arch, Pacific States Savings' many conservative policies act constantly to sustain the strength and stability of this great financial structure.

Our loan policy plays a vital part. Our 7% rate attracts to us the highest type of first lien collateral offered any California building and loan association. We adhere to our notably sound appraisal practice. Regular installment payments required on all loans are a further safety factor.

Other conservative factors of equal importance are: cash on hand far exceeding current needs—exclusive of reserves totaling 7 millions . . . conserved earnings . . . and freedom from bank indebtedness.

DINNER GIVEN TO RANTZ BY FOX EMPLOYEES

A farewell dinner to John Rantz, supervisor of Fox theaters in Santa Ana, who is severing his connections here for a better position with the Fox organization in Los Angeles, was given as a surprise to him at midnight last night at McFarland's cafe in Fullerton.

Eighty employees and their wives attended the dinner and gave Rantz a big welcome when he walked into the dining room with Mrs. Rantz, expecting to find only a few of his closest friends.

The esteem in which Rantz is held by employees here and in Anaheim, where he managed the Fox theater before coming to Santa Ana, manifested itself in last night's meeting.

A set of golf clubs and bag were presented to Rantz by the employees of the two theaters here and one in Anaheim. Mrs. Rantz was present.

ed with two bunches of roses, one from Anaheim and the other from Santa Ana.

George Stinson, state traffic officer, led the entertainment for the evening, singing two numbers. The remainder of the program was put on by employees who sang, played musical instruments and danced. These included Helen Allen, at the piano; Garth Benjamin, banjo and songs; Testa Kramis, Anaheim, songs; Tom and Walter Chapman, songs and music; Avery Johnson, piano, and Edwin Case, songs.

Norman Sprowl, new manager of the Fox theaters in Santa Ana, was present, and was introduced to the employees. He succeeds Rantz here today as manager of the two Santa Ana theaters.

FORTUNE TO BUTLER

LONDON, May 6.—The servants of Lady Florence Mary Nevill of Hove, Sussex, fared excellently in their late mistress's will. The butler, Victor Milton, received more than $10,000. Her maid received a large wardrobe of sable furs and an income of $1250 a year. Her chauffeur was willed $2500, and other servants received one year's wages. Lady Nevill left an estate of more than $50,000, about one-third of which went to her servants.

PUPILS OF ELEMENTARY AND JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOLS WILL GIVE MUSIC WEEK PROGRAM

Of special interest to young people of the city and the parents of school children, will be tonight's Music week program opening at 8 o'clock in the high school auditorium. For it will be the annual school night program, arranged by Frances Hunt Beeson, supervisor of music in the city schools, and will feature young people from elementary and junior high school grades.

In outlining the program, Mrs. Beeson today stated:

"There are three classes of musicians: the few who create music, a larger number who perform it, and that great class which listen to it. In the limited amount of time we have to give to this subject in school, we try to discover those who have talent, and arouse their interest in music. Vocal singing, sight reading, instrumental classes, orchestras, and music appreciation are offered to give instruction in various phases of this subject. We hope this interest will carry over into the lives of pupils after they leave school."

"Probably the greatest influence for the development of good taste in music can be found in the opportunity given to children in the schools to learn the fundamentals of good music. It is hoped that this influence will help more in the future to provide groups for musical organizations, and also will enable many to become good and intelligent listeners and thus build up still larger audiences for concerts in the future."

Tonight's program will follow the quarter hour of community singing and will open with music by the combined Frances Willard and Julia Lathrop orchestras, playing "Southern Melodies" arranged by Hayes, and an operatic number, S. J. Mustel, band and orchestra conductor, will direct the young people.

Mrs. Nellie Irvine Hughes' music pupils, of Edison school, will present a clever sketch written by Mrs. Hughes, "All on a Summer Day," with its varied songs, choruses and dialogues. Miss Maurie Hamill's kindergarten band, of Spurgeon school, will play "Flowers" and "Rosebuds."

Lowell school will present a "Fishing Scene" under the direction of Miss Hazel Lazarre. Jefferson school, with Miss Helen Glancy, instructor, will sing "Sailing Songs." Miss Olive Ranney, of McKinley school, will present her pupils in "Flowers and Butterflies" with Laila Buell and Erika Wyld, of the Putnam school of dancing, adding a butterfly dance to the program.

Miss Gladys Campbell's piano class will present "A Good Time to Practice," after which the elementary school orchestra, under Miss Lois Gould, will play. Willard junior high school's Girls' Glee club, directed by Miss Esther Jean Davis, will sing "I Passed By Your Window," by Brahe; "Invitation to the Bells," and "Chimes of Normandy," by Planquette. The Boys' Glee club, under the same direction, will contribute "The Levee Song" and "Stars of the Summer Night," by Woodbury.

Lathrop junior high school will offer its Girls' Glee club, directed by Maxine Zolman Bryte, in "My Little Banjo," by Dickmont; MacDowell's "To a Wild Rose," and "Amaryllis," by Ghys; a military tap dance, by Marguerite Barker, Phyllis Jensen and Lois Franke; the Boys' Glee club (under Mrs. Beeson's direction) in a "Campfire Scene," and a "Firefly Dance" by Betty Jean Ward, a pupil of Claire Coutant.

The program will have as its final feature, the P.-T. A. mothers' chorus, directed by Mrs. Beeson. In its first public appearance, Members of this chorus are Mrs. H. G. Wetherell, accompanist; Miss Carrie Seaton, assistant accompanist; Mrs. W. A. Proctor, president; Mrs. Marie S. Eyerly, Mrs. S. H. Bradley, Mrs. J. M. Pedersen, Mrs. Robert Emerson, Mrs. Marie Klingenberg, Mrs. T. N. Hubbard, Mrs. W. H. Welch, Mrs. J. A. Gardner, Mrs. Ohara, Mrs. Iva Hallman, Mrs. Roy Horton, Mrs. L. W. Hynes, Mrs. W. J. Sebastian, Mrs. G. E. Snyder, Mrs. F. A. Triplatt, Mrs. Pearl Livesey and Mrs. Thermon Means.

Their numbers will be "River, River," a Chilean folk song; "We'll Touch the Strings to Music," and "Where Go the Boats," by LeFebvre.

BREAKFAST CLUB PLANS SURPRISE

Surprises are in store for members who attend the meeting of the Breakfast club Thursday morning, according to a declaration today by B. Z. McKinney, president of the organization. Business of great importance to the club will come up for consideration, the president stated. The program will be in observance of National Music week, and will be under the direction of D. C. Cianfoni. There will be musical numbers in addition to selections by the Elwood Bear violin quartet and vocal numbers by Mrs. Taylor Johnson, of the Santa Ana Conservatory of Music.

Rogers, the driver started out at 11 a. m., from the garage of the Santa Ana Durant Motor Sales company, for a period of continuous driving that is expected to last 105 hours, at least.

During the period it is expected Willey will visit every city and community in the southern part of the county, according to B. E. Morthland, manager of the local Durant agency.

Willey has been through the grueling drive before, and Morthland said that it was anticipated he would attain the record of 105 hours he has set as his goal.

The Rev. E. W. Matz, pastor of the Santa Ana church, stated today that some 70 ministers and laymen as official delegates would be present for the sessions of the state conference, which will continue through next Sunday. There will be a large number of other interested persons present.

The session of the conference proper will convene at 9 a. m. Thursday with observance of holy communion and an address by Bishop Stamm. During that day there will be presentations of the interests of the board of religious education and the Women's Missionary society. The evening address will be by Roy Stettler, of Harrisburg, Pa.

Youth Jailed For Military Offense

For failure to attend drill of Company L, 185th infantry, Santa Ana's unit in the California National guard, James L. Dance, 19, of 1848 South Van Ness street, was locked in the county jail last night.

The youth, arrested by his sergeant, was booked at the jail on a charge of violation of Section 161, of the articles of war. He will be tried before Justice Kenneth Morrison.

SPEEDER PREFERS JAIL TO LOSING DRIVER'S LICENSE

Charged with reckless driving and speeding his truck, E. B. Young, of 646 East Fifty-fourth street, Los Angeles, was given his choice this morning of going to jail for five days, having his operator's license suspended for six months or paying a fine of $50. He decided on the jail sentence.

The "choosing" took place in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court after Young, who was arrested by George Stinson, state traffic officer, had pleaded guilty to the charge.

Young was accused of speeding through a school zone at Westminster several days ago. At the time he received a ticket from the arresting officer.

Following the dismissal of the case in court, Young went to the county jail and was locked up.

The car was the property of former jailer Joe B. Irvine, of Santa Ana. It was reported stolen from a spot near Second and Sycamore streets.

SLEEPER ASKS CO-OPERATION OF OFFICIALS

Asking co-operation from the board of supervisors in allowing additional funds to provide for employing extra help in the county assessor's office so that valuations on Orange county property may be checked, in line with the recommendations of the last grand jury, County Assessor James Sleeper today filed a letter with the board.

Action on the matter was deferred when difficulties as to determining their rights in the matter of employing additional help for the assessor arose. The letter was filed and the matter was referred to the district attorney and the county auditor to determine the legal phases of the matter.

Deputy District Attorney S. E. Kaufman, who was called into the discussion, stated that an investigation was being made by the district attorney's office to determine how San Diego county had proceeded and that he believed careful study should be given the matter and sound opinion worked out. He stated that he did not believe under the law the board of supervisors was empowered to hire persons to do the work of the assessor's office, except when sitting as a board of equalization.

Supervisors Mitchell and Schumacher were inclined to the belief that the matter could not be handled as suggested by Sleeper. Supervisor Chapman declared there was no use arguing the matter until the legal rulings were determined and made the motion calling for filing of the communication and asking the opinion of the district attorney and the auditor.

The letter from Sleeper follows: "As you well know we have had an enormous increase in subdivisions and cuts in acreage property in this county the past seven years. I have placed values on all these properties myself, not having sufficient funds in my allowance to employ assistants in this work. It has got to the place where I cannot do this work properly without some assistance. I have a valuation man for trees and a building crew for the valuation of buildings. These departments were created by this office in the interest of the taxpayers of the county for the equalizing of these classes of properties for assessment purposes. This has taxed to the limit the present funds allowed this office.

"I am now asking you to co-operate with me by allowing me additional funds to employ help to do this work. I suggest that you allow me six men at $10 per day and one man at $15 per day to supervise and check the work. These amounts are to include all their traveling expense, etc. The work will start August 1st and will be open to your inspection at all times. You will have the power to stop this allowance when you think the work is not properly done, and I promise you that it will be my aim to pick men who will be fair and impartial to all parts of the county. This suggestion does not include costs of maps which will be necessary for this work.

"These suggestions are for the good of all taxpayers of the county and I trust that you can see the necessity of co-operating with me by making these allowances."

Respectfully submitted,
JAMES SLEEPER,
County Assessor

Deputy Probation Officer Selected

Acting on the unanimous recommendation of the county probation committee, Judge H. G. Ames yesterday afternoon appointed David R. McMillan, former high school coach and elementary school principal at San Juan Capistrano, as deputy in the county probation department.

The appointment fills the vacancy made by the resignation of L. R. Warren, and the advancement of the other members in the department. Mrs. Nora Allen is probation officer and Carl Warner is deputy.

PAIN IN YOUR SHOULDER? Use Tysmol for Relief

Knife-like jabs of pain in the vicinity of the shoulder blade are generally due to neuritis, brought on by exposure to draughts or sudden changes of weather. In some cases there is stiffness or soreness in the muscles, making it difficult to raise the arm.

The safest and easiest way to relieve such an attack is to apply a small quantity of Tysmol over the affected area. This soothing, healing preparation is quickly absorbed through the pores and carried to the throbbing, aching peripheral nerves. The pains usually stop at once, and in a very short time the last trace of soreness should disappear.

Tysmol is absolutely harmless—free from dope. Recommended for all forms of nerve pain, whether caused by neuritis, neuralgia, sciatica or rheumatism. Sold by leading druggists. Always on hand at C. S. Kelley Drug Co.—Adv.

DEPUTY RECOVERS STOLEN ACCORDION

Harry Carter, deputy sheriff, spent yesterday and Sunday at Clearwater and returned this morning with a $500 accordion, reported stolen from the home of August Carli, of Cypress, which was the object of his visit to the Los Angeles county town. But he failed to bring back the man who stole it.

But Harry has a good reason. The man from whom the musical instrument was stolen refused to sign a complaint against the thief, according to Carter.

"He was too well pleased to get back the accordion," Carter said.

Two Injured In Auto Accident

Two men were slightly injured at 9 p. m. yesterday when automobiles they were driving collided at Orangeflorpe road and Grand avenue. Neither was hurt seriously, according to a report made to the sheriff's office by Jesse Buckles, deputy sheriff, who made an investigation.

Jack Booker, of Cypress, was cut on the ear, and Alfred M. Plant, of Los Nietos, suffered head injuries. It was reported. Both were taken to their home.

A collection of 4000 books on cookery, gastronomy and dietetics has been given to the New York Academy of Medicine.

FIVE BOYS TO GET JUVENILE COURT TRIALS

Five youths, most of whom reside in Anaheim, were certified to the juvenile court this morning from Justice Kenneth Morrison's court, on burglary charges.

They were rounded up as a "gang" of burglars who have been operating in Orange county for the past several weeks, according to F. W. Howard, chief criminal deputy sheriff, and have confessed to entering at least six homes here recently, he said.

"This gang makes a total of 11 youths comprising two gangs we have arrested within the past 30 days for burglary. The first bunch was certified to the juvenile court and all of them were given probation," Howard said.

Howard reported that the first gang of five youths admitted 20 burglaries here during the course of their operations.

"We don't know yet how many jobs the last gang is implicated in, but we have found loot from six burglaries and there probably are many more," he said.

Deputies Carter, Buckles, Howard and Steward have been working as a burglary detail on the cases for the past several weeks.

Board Orders Beach Condemnation Proceedings

COUNCIL WILL ASK COURT TO SET SALE PRICE

HUNTINGTON BEACH, May 6.—The city council last night instructed the city attorney, L. W. Blodgett, to begin condemnation proceedings against the Huntington Beach company to acquire a portion of the ocean front or beach for park purposes. Negotiations for the sale of the beach were in this way summarily terminated.

J. S. Lawshe, general manager of the Huntington Beach company, was present. He had submitted a letter to the council which modified the terms of the beach purchase in that it made the sale unconditional after 25 years, but reserved for that time the oil rights to the Huntington Beach company with a proviso that the city receive half the royalty.

The city attorney was instructed to include in the condemnation proceeding an injunction restraining the Huntington Beach company from interfering with the rights of the people to use the beach for park and playground purposes pending determination of the condemnation proceedings.

The Huntington Beach company had made its letter in the form of an ultimatum requiring the city council to accept its sale offer within 30 days. On motion of Councilman Conrad, seconded by Councilman Butcher, the condemnation proceedings were submitted for the sale negotiations and the fight for the beach is to be taken to the courts. Councilman E. B. Stevens advised further negotiations but when the motion to start condemnation proceedings was put, he voted with the other four councilmen in favor of the plan.

Promiscuous oil drilling by irresponsible companies and operators was frowned on by the council when on motion of Councilman E. G. Conrad, seconded by Councilman E. B. Stevens and adopted unanimously, the city attorney was instructed to draft an ordinance covering four points, the four points as set forth by Mayor Sam R. Bowen are as follows:

To provide a bond of not less than $5000 to insure cleaning up drill sites and demolishing derricks when wells were no longer operated.

To make a satisfactory showing of financial responsibility before a permit to erect a derrick was granted through the office of the building inspector.

To provide a plan for disposal of waste water other than putting it back into the earth in shallow wells.

To require steel construction for derrick and about rig when within 150 feet of other rigs.

The city attorney is to study and investigate the legality of the four propositions and to embody in the ordinance such as can be the of the music and promotion enforced.

The city rejected on recommendation, a proposition to engage the municipal band for concerts during the summer at a cost of $3400. Bills for the month of April were allowed and ordered paid. Reports of city officers were read and accepted.

The city engineer was instructed to proceed with the destruction of abandoned oil derricks, including two which the state mining bureau had said the city could not demolish. The mining bureau has since caused proper abandonment of the wells and notified the city to proceed to demolish. In this matter the city won a victory over the mining bureau in the interest of protection of property and safety for the public.

Mayor Bowen and Manager Lawshe engaged in an entertaining passage of words and arguments during the discussion of the beach purchase matter. It brought out that the Huntington Beach company had offered a sliding scale for the beach beginning at a price of $100 a front foot scaling down to $50 a front foot as distance from Main street was attained. The company had refused to accept less than $100 a front foot but had agreed to the price of $254,000 for the beach, selling 2500 feet for the beach and making a gift to the city of 1700 feet additional beach front. Mayor Bowen characterized this plan as an attempt on the part of the Huntington Beach company to make the people think they had been given something. Lawshe said it was a refusal on the part of his company to accept less than a fair price for beach frontage and thus establish a precedent.

Lawshe pointed out that a city ordinance provided that no oil well could be drilled within 250 feet of a public building, and thus it was possible for the city to spot the beach with makeshift nondescript public buildings and thus deprive the Huntington Beach company of its right to drill, hence a clause in the deed providing the city would remove any and all buildings it might establish on the beach in case the Huntington Beach company wanted to have the beach drilled for oil.

QUEEN VALENCIA PAGEANT IN ORANGE EXPECTED TO DRAW CROWD NEXT FRIDAY NIGHT

ORANGE, May 6.—Indications point to a huge crowd when the Queen Valencia court pageant is staged at the Orange union high school athletic grounds Friday night at 8 o'clock. This year's performance is expected to be better than the one last year.

The high school athletic field will be illuminated with brilliant spotlights being arranged by J. L. Hutchins. The seating capacity is under the chairmanship of George Elitste. Sherman Gillogly is receiving donations to cover expenses of the pageant.

Some 306 high school pupils will take part. Dorothy Reynolds, queen, and her eight attendants, Evelyn Green, Dorothy Alt, Helen Terry, Gertrude Eggers, Charlotte Knuth, Eugene Bode, Dorothy Tedford and Elma Byrne, are coached by F. L. Carrier, dramatic teacher of the high school.

The entire entertainment is free to the public. The athletic field is located two blocks north and one block east of the plaza. The following program gives some idea of the entertainment, but does not tell of the brilliantly lighted area, the rainbow spot light effects, and the spectacular fireworks display: Introduction, high school orchestra, dances, Tarantella, 52 girls; Highland Schottische, 72 girls; character dance, the Crazy Cat; Holland Kiddles, 64 girls; clown dance, 88 girls; group of clogs, seven numbers danced by junior and senior girls; Spanish dances, two numbers, 72 girls; group of dances, five numbers, 164 participating; group of natural dances; group of national dances, 130 girls participating; finale, fireworks display.

MAYOR HAIBER IS RE-ELECTED IN PLACENTIA

PLACENTIA, May 6.—C. E. Haiber was re-elected mayor of Placentia at the regular meeting of the city council in the Chamber of Commerce hall Monday evening and will serve a two-year term. Haiber was elected mayor last year at the resignation of Mayor H. O. Easton to serve out the remainder of the term.

Committees for the year were appointed, as follows: Finance, Andrew Ipsen, chairman; E. A. Long, C. C. Curtis; street, E. A. Long, chairman; A. Ipsen; police, C. C. Curtis, chairman; A. Ipsen; fire and water, A. C. Schalles, chairman; and C. C. Curtis; health and safety, A. C. Schalles, chairman; A. Ipsen. Gus Barnes was appointed chief of police and street superintendent; Albert Launer, of Fullerton, city attorney; T. E. Pickrell, city judge; George W. Bates, Orange, city engineer.

C. C. Curtis brought up a matter which has interested the city council for some time past, that of installing sidewalks along the south side of Chapman street from the city limits to Bradford avenue and on the east side of Bradford avenue from Center street to the school house. Following the council meeting an unofficial discussion of the project was held, as the council wishes to get started on the project as soon as possible.

City Clerk Nellie Cline reported that T. E. Pickrell had requested the council to consider the matter of a city planning committee to meet with the county planning commission and advise in regard to matters pertaining to Placentia.

Millions Suffer New Foot Disease

Yet Don't Know What It Is

A terrible, contagious foot disease—starting with a little itching, cracking and scaling between and around the toes—later developing intense itching and burning, is caused by a germ infection that is very contagious.

A recent bulletin of the U. S. Public Health Service asserts that at least half of all adults suffer at some time with this dreadful condition—many have been disabled for weeks.

Don't let this infection spread—get a bottle of Moe's Emerald Oil right away. Moe's Drug Store and druggists everywhere are dispensing it to help check the epidemic.

Apply night and morning. Itching immediately stops and in 2 weeks if feet aren't in good, healthy condition—money back! You must employ a powerfully penetrating germicide like Moe's Emerald Oil to get results.—Adv.

IMPROVEMENTS PROJECTED FOR BEACH SECTION

NEWPORT BEACH, May 6.—The Corona del Mar section of this city is expected to see notable really and building development this summer, following the acquisition of the W. S. Sparr interests there by a new company, backed by Los Angeles capital and now in process of formation.

That the new corporation means business was emphasized by John Sherrod Harris, who has been prominent in its formation and who was close to Sparr during his ownership of the property. Harris, on behalf of the new owners, paid into the city treasury last week $33,514.67, covering taxes and assessments on some 4400 feet along the ocean and bay fronts. This was said to be the largest single payment of taxes and assessments made to the city for some time.

This payment did not cover some of the other Sparr properties, known as the Alta Vista tract, and east of the other land, Alta Vista, however, is also being taken over from Sparr, but by another company, with which Harris will also be connected.

Harris announced that the new company would offer the land for sale, with restrictions, and that it would be one of the most unique and high class groups of estates available in Southern California, being mostly bluff land overlooking the ocean and bay.

Coincident with the realty development, the company announced a new policy in connection with the bathhouse at Corona del Mar, which will be in charge of Foster King. A high class amusement section is to be developed, the announcement said.

Ends Piles Quick

No Salves or Cutting

Piles are caused by congestion of blood in the lower bowel. Only an internal medicine can remove the cause. That's why salves and cutting fail. HEM-ROID, the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonard, removes this congestion and strengthens the affected parts.

HEM-ROID is now sold by druggists everywhere, and has such a wonderful record of success even in chronic and stubborn cases that Schramm-Johnson invites every Pile sufferer to try HEM-ROID and guarantees money-back if it does not end all Pile misery.—Adv.

CAR CRASH CAUSE OF FIVE LAWSUITS

Five suits were filed in superior court today asking damages totaling $106,421 which, it is alleged, grew out of an accident at the intersection of Smelter street and Huntington Beach boulevard last January.

The injuries and damages are asserted to have been caused by the careless operation of a car by R. B. Strowbridge, who is named as principal defendant in the actions. Mrs. H. L. Troeller, one of the plaintiffs, was driver of the other car.

Margaret Kelly, of Buena Park, a passenger in the Troeller car, as were all the other plaintiffs, asks damages of $1053. In another suit filed by her as guardian for Richard Kelly, 4, and Lucille Kelly, 5, she asks respective amounts of $300 and $1000.

Mrs. Troeller asks $1053 for injuries and damages to her clothing in the third suit that was filed. She also filed a suit in the name of Norma Troeller, 3, asking $1500 for injuries.

The fifth suit was filed by Paul F. Troeller, owner of the car, and asks $1152.21 for damages to the machine and loss of its use while it was in the repair shop.

Dish Washer Is Arrested After Check Incident

Booked on a forgery charge, Russell Keenan, 19, alias Frank Bloomer, a dish washer of El Modena, is being held in the county jail following his arrest Saturday night at a drive-in market at Fourth and Lacy streets.

The youth is asserted to have tried to cash a check for $29 at the market when his attention was called to the fact that the check was not properly made out.

He disappeared and a short time later brought back another check, with the error more pronounced than ever. It read $2900.00.

Officers Smithwick and Adams made the arrest. They reported that Keenan was on probation at the time of his arrest.

Today the crew went onto South Main street, Rehm said. All the men who are working on the project are members of the Legion post here and have lived in Santa Ana for a year or more. The goal of the campaign is to have the five or six main arterial streets leading into the city decorated with flags on holidays.

Boy Scout troop No. 29, sponsored by American Legion post 131, decided at its last meeting to conduct an overnight camp to be held on the last Saturday of each month. This month's camp will be in the Santa Ana canyon, near Green River camp.

The older boys of this troop, with several older boys from other troops, are organizing a Sea scout patrol. This is a branch of Scouting for older boys who have passed a certain number of required tests. Fred P. Faber, scoutmaster, will take charge until a skipper is secured.

The American Legion has built the troop a workshop, and a number of tools have been secured. The boys will be required to build something to be exhibited at the Orange county fair.

Ernest Miller, senior patrol leader, will receive his eagle badge at the annual jamboree. Scouts from troop No. 29 will assemble Wednesday afternoon at the fair grounds to rehearse for the jamboree. Scouts who will qualify for their first class awards at the next monthly board of review are Harry Durbin, Jim Pegues and Russel Abbey.

ASHLEY ARRESTED ON THEFT CHARGE

Gordon Ashley, 24, of 304 Orange avenue, Santa Ana, was arrested at Newport Beach Saturday night on a charge of grand theft, as a result of the disappearance of an automobile owned by former Deputy Jailer Joe B. Irvine, here.

The car was taken from a place where Irvine parked it near Second and Sycamore streets and was found at the beach city, two hours later.

According to Jess Buckles, deputy sheriff, who made the arrest, Ashley claimed that a man at the beach "loaned" him the machine to drive back to Santa Ana. It was a man he had just met, he claimed, and he did not remember his name. Ashley is being held in the county jail awaiting arraignment.

Mission Bowl Is Moved to Fountain

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, May 6.—The huge bowl to be placed in the center of the Fountain of Four Evangelists in the mission patio is being moved from the studio in the old mission barracks, where it was made, to the fountain today. The bowl is beautifully decorated in symbols of the four evangelists, the eagle for San Juan, the angel for San Mateo, the bull for San Lucas and the lion for San Marcos. The Spanish spirit is carried out in the development of the figures and in other decorations on the bowl. The designs were drawn by Charles Percy Austin.

When a fire-resisting heatolium of English invention is heated it emits a heavy gas that lies close to the floor and smothers all flames.

WEST WINDS

Here and There in Local Sport

By EDDIE WEST

Mr. George W. Peterkin, one of those well dressed young men who patrol the highways for the state, gazed sorrowfully out of the window in the manner of a punch-drunk pugilist and said with all the emotion he could muster:

"By fall I'll be either another Solomon or a raving maniac."

Mr. Peterkin is president of the National Night baseball league. He is the most efficient ruler they've ever had in the nocturnal business.

Peterkin adds dignity to the job, considers his problems with the seriousness of a sport outstripping any other but football demands.

Hence, undoubtedly, the feeling with which Mr. Peterkin expressed his dilemma.

The National Night league season is three weeks old but already the "Prexy" has been asked to consider three protests, fire half a dozen umpires and pacify five or six managers.

The first protest was filed by Huntington Beach after it lost to Whittier and was based on Lloyd Johnson's now famous "wild pitch," the Whittier moundsman losing control of the ball while winding up and sending it off toward center field instead of home plate.

Peterkin ruled in favor of Huntington Beach, ordered the contest replayed within three weeks.

The morning's mail completely unnerved the head man, however. It contained two more protests.

Oliver asked that its defeat by Fullerton be thrown out because "Bud" Wilhite, Fullerton's pitcher, removed his sweater and hurled part of the game in a sweat shirt.

Peterkin acted with alacrity on that one. He denied it.

The other complaint was brought by La Habra against Olive and was based on the perplexing question of when and how a baserunner must return to his bag when the pitcher has possession of the ball in the box.

Peterkin will not rule on this.

STARS FACE LA HABRA TONIGHT

Jaycee Ball Team Quits Conference

COLLEGE RULE AGAINST NIGHT GAMES REASON

Taps were sounded today for junior college baseball in Santa Ana. Members of Coach Clyde Cook's Don squad turned in their suits after over half the team was declared ineligible, making it virtual suicide to attempt to play games with strong schools of the conference.

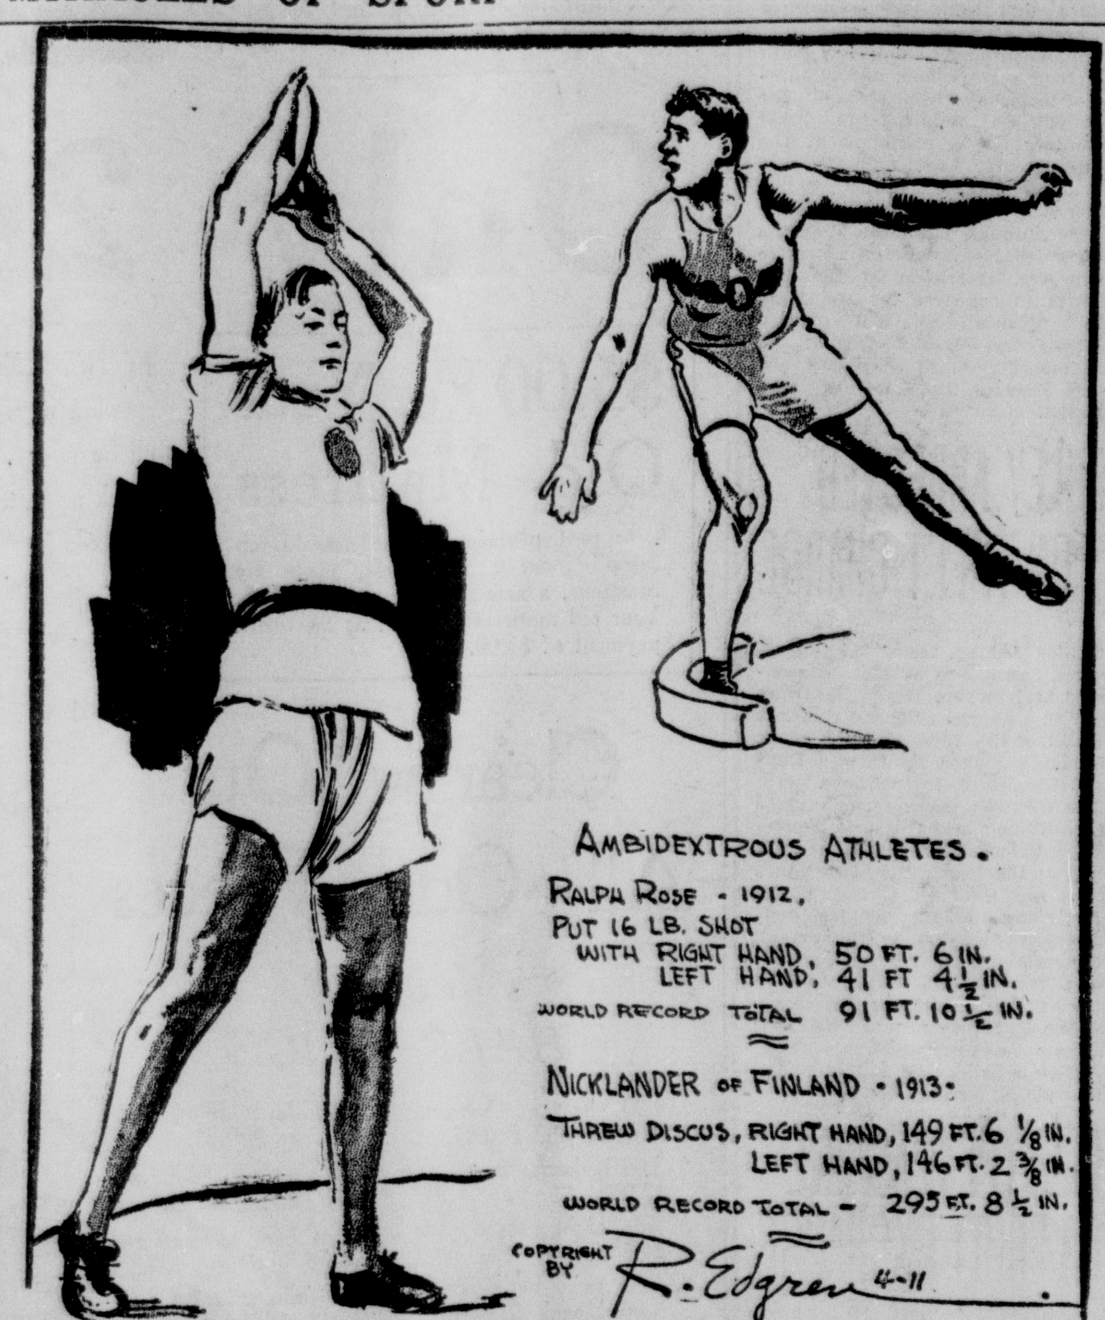

After a rule barring night ball players from participating in Jaycee baseball was enforced, three of the most talented Dons were given the axe, including Orylle Schuchardt, centerfielder for the Santa Ana Stars, and the only Don pitcher who could get them to the plate.

The other two lunar ball players were Leonard Nadiand and Charles Andres, both of Garden Grove. Vernon Valentine injured his ankle in practice and Gerald Scott and Franklin Van Meter were scholastically ineligible, leaving Coach Cook but four regulars. Five others on the squad had played little or no baseball. "Swede" Whittier was brought in from the outfield to pitch but having had no experience, was unmercifully battered in the last game with Long Beach which was won by the Vikings, 17-3.

Whittier declined to pitch any more games on the ground that he was not effective and it was bad for the school to lose games by such large margins. Coach Cook notified league officials today that the Dons were withdrawing from the schedule.

Los Angeles was the next opponent on the calendar for the Dons. Previous league games were with Chaffey and Long Beach, both teams beating the Dons. Although the Santa Ana players have played over 15 games, it has not been decided whether they will receive monograms.

Bees' Tussle With Orange Tonight Off

With the outfield several inches under water at noon, the Orange County Night baseball league game between Kenneth Sturzeneger's Santa Ana Bees and Orange, scheduled for the Bowl tonight, was postponed today until Friday night.

The Bees had a contest arranged with the Union Oil company of Los Angeles for Friday but this will be cancelled, Sturzeneger said, at the request of George Peterkin, president of the Orange County league which is fostered by the National Night league.

Peterkin wants to avoid league postponements if possible. The Bees lost their first game to Westminster by a lopsided score but hope to show great improvement this week.

Tonight's Games: Santa Ana at La Habra; Huntington Beach at Anaheim; Whittier at Olive; Long Beach at Orange; Fullerton at Garden Grove.

There are no soft touches in nocturnal baseball anymore so the Santa Ana Stars expect another large evening when they invade La Habra tonight to investigate for the first time the qualities of the tail-end Violet Rays.

La Habra has yet to win its first game but this will not be scored at the expense of Santa Ana if Captain Bill Cole and his merry men can help it. The Star skipper plans to use his regular lineup, picking his pitcher between Joe Cornelius and "Bono" Koral.

Cornelius got along fairly well against Orange his first time out and Cole may elect to come right back with Imperial Joe to plumb deeper into his pitching possibilities. "Bony" Wilcox will do the catching with Curt Youel at first base. Leavitt Daley or "Rosie" Merrill at second, Darwin Scott at third and "Memph" Hill at short. Wayne Nelson will be in left, Orv Schuchardt center and either Merrill or Randolph Bell in right.

Although defeated in five straight games, La Habra is likely to be anything but a pushover for the

HOOKS AND SLIDES

DID YOU KNOW THAT—Primo Carnera's appetite is said to be the biggest on record... but let us not forget Luis Angel Firpo... one September afternoon, Luis took on a platter of spaghetti, an extra thick tenderloin steak with mushrooms, potatoes and vegetables, a quart of ice cream and half of a coconut cake... all he did that same evening was to knock Jack Dempsey into the press box... When Gene Tunney was in training he used to drink three quarts of milk a day... they say that in his heyday Lili Artha Johnson used to chew up three or four whole chickens at a meal... and George Godfrey can eat a lot more chickens than that... one of Dempsey's favorite dishes is pigs' knuckles and sauer kraut, and how he can destroy it!... and they say that Kid Broad used to order beef stew for dessert.

WITH DACHSHUND EFFECTS Well, well, here comes Max Sigfried Adolf Otto Schmeling, with dachshunds, cuckoo clocks and all! He hasn't confided as yet what use he means to make of the dachshunds. Maybe he will give 'em to Sharkey as sparring partners. And the cuckoo clocks? Maybe he ought to give these to the members of the New York athletic commission. The cuckoos wouldn't be lonely in such company.

Good showmanship, anyway, those dogs and clocks, say we, and they recall somehow the last visit of a foreign fighter bent on attempting to win what is indubitably called the world's heavyweight championship. Remember Gorgeous George? And his many suits, spats and flowing robes, with canes to match!

A CLOCK FOR CORBETT? Maybe Max ought to give one of those clocks to Jim Corbett, the well known former heavyweight champion and the world's worst guesser. Jim guesses that the Hurler Hamburger will be the world champion by 1931. Corbett, you know, has guessed wrong on every fight since that one he had himself down in New Orleans years ago with John L. Sullivan, and he wasn't so very sure who was going to win that one.

Speaking of foreign entanglements, Corbett himself was called upon twice to do the "patriotic" thing by keeping the world's heavyweight championship in America. The first occasion was the challenge of Peter Jackson, who had won the championship of the British Empire and who was one of the last of the upstanding British heavyweights. Corbett fought 61 rounds even Steven with Jackson.

Then there was the affair of Charlie Mitchell, whom Corbett knocked out in four rounds. Neither of these gents brought over any cuckoo clocks, but they carried punches that made many of their opponents think cuckoos were bass soloists. And neither Jackson nor Mitchell came with dachshund effects.

MORE EVIDENCE Corbett says, however, that we must wait for more evidence on Schmeling, to be obtained in the Sharkey fight, before passing judgment on his candidacy. Paulino was no problem for Max, according to Jim, who adds also that if Schmeling had been a little more ring-wise he would have known how to knock out Uzzie.

Corbett says the German knows little about feinting, nothing at all about countering. Schmeling's right is much the better hand but Jim would not say that he is a one-handed fighter.

"If he will learn from others," says Corbett, "his possibilities are unlimited. He has a tremendous lot to acquire before he can be rated a real fighter."

"But right now I believe that by 1931 Schmeling will be champion. It's up to Sharkey."

Yes, yes, Jim, and if he can beat Sharkey without knowing how to feint, how to counter and without a great left hand, say we, more power to Max Sigfried Adolf Otto Schmeling, and his cuckoos and dachshunds, too!

COAST LEAGUERS IN IMPORTANT SERIES

SAN FRANCISCO, May 6.—Pacific Coast league fans are looking forward to a series of hard fought games this week between two teams that are making a fast fight for first place.

Sacramento, now heading the list, will meet Oakland on the latter's home grounds in what promises to be a fast series of games.

Another contender for the honor position is Los Angeles which has a good chance of moving up from second place if they take the Missions into camp.

At Los Angeles, the Seals, just hanging on to the first division, take on the trailing Hollywood Sheiks.

In another series which might settle cellar honors, the Seattle Indians play the Portland Beavers at Portland.

NEWPORT HARBOR IN NIGHT LEAGUE WIN

Newport harbor boasted another win in the Orange County Night Baseball league today after scoring a 1 victory over Westminster at Newport Beach last night.

L. Pangle hurled a good game for the Beachmen and allowed the only run in the second inning. His teammates did some effective bunting in four innings and pushed home single runs in the second, third, fourth and seventh frames.

The batteries were L. Pangle and E. Long for Newport Harbor, De Busk, Davis and Penhall for Westminster.

WALKER CUP TEAM REACHES ENGLAND

PLYMOUTH, Eng., May 6.—(INS)—Seven members of the United States Walker cup team arrived here on the Cunard liner Mauretania from New York.

Bobby Jones, captain, remained on board, intending to disembark at Southampton. The establishment of the stable will make Jones' teammates were Jimmy Johnston, George Voigt, George Von Elm, Francis Outim, Don Moe, Roland McKenzie and Dr. F. W. Willing.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., May 6.—Allie Wolff, middleweight boxer, intends to save his ring earnings and study to become a rabbi, he has announced.

LACONIA, N. H., May 6.—When a Laconia high school baseball player errs during practice, Coach Roy Kelley makes him wheel the Kelley's baby girl in her carriage for a half hour.

TWO PROTESTS ARE FILED IN NIGHT LEAGUE

Two more protests were on file today with George W. Peterkin, president of the National Night Baseball league.

One concerned the Olive-Fullerton game of April 29, the other the contest of May 2 between Olive and La Habra. Complaint over the first affair was made by Olive. La Habra brought the second protest.

Olive protested the action of "Bud" Wilhite, Fullerton pitcher, in removing his sweater and pitching part of the game in a sweat shirt, as well as the language said to have been used by Wallace Ruckert, Fullerton manager, in arguing the point.

President Peterkin immediately acted on this protest which he denied. His ruling was that the complaint was not made before the umpire left the field and that Wilhite's action was not a matter important enough to have any bearing on the outcome of the game.

La Habra's protest was based on a decision made by a base umpire who called a runner out for being off first base while the ball was being tossed back to the pitcher by the catcher. La Habra argued that the runner had this privilege and that the decision might have cost them victory as it had men on first and third at the time of the decision.

Peterkin said he would not rule on this play until he received a written report from his umpires.

OLE HANSON PLANS BIG RACING STABLE

SAN CLEMENTE, May 6.—Ole Hanson today announced the purchase of 477 acres of land from Cornelio Echenique, San Juan's gentleman rancher. The land is located in the hills about two and a half miles from the San Clemente Riding academy. The amount of purchase was not made public.

Hanson stated that he plans to use the land as the nucleus for the development of his racing stable. Here he plans to breed show and race horses. The establishment of the stable will make Hanson the center of two racing stables, Hamilton H. Cotton being the owner of the other, known to American racing fans as La Brea Stables.

When a Laconia high school baseball player errs during practice, Coach Roy Kelley makes him wheel the Kelley's baby girl in her carriage for a half hour.

John Willcutt, Vance Join Waterloo Team

John Willcutt and Wendell Vance, pitchers on the Santa Ana high school baseball team last year, are working out daily with the Waterloo club of the Three-I league in Waterloo, Ia.

Willcutt, who lives in Costa Mesa, and Vance, who resides in Santa Ana, have been in the east several weeks. They motored to Iowa, visiting relatives on the way. Vance, nephew of "Dazzy" Vance, hurler for the Brooklyn Robins, and Willcutt were two of the best chuckers in prep circles last season.

SONNENBERG IS STILL KING OF WORLD MATMEN

LOS ANGELES, May 6.—(INS)—Gus Sonnenberg was still the heavyweight wrestling champion today having successfully defended his title here last night against Everett Marshall, Colorado challenger.

Using his famous "airplane spin" Marshall secured the first fall in 31 minutes and 36 seconds.

Sonnenberg came back to take the second fall in 11 minutes and 55 seconds with his equally famous flying tackle.

The third fall went to Sonnenberg in five minutes. He rushed out of his corner, butted Marshall in the stomach a couple of times and fell on his opponent for the third fall.

A crowd of more than 17,000 paid $69,735.50 to see the match, it was announced by promoters.

REBOIN. PAUL USE BLOCKS IN ALL-SOUTHERN

Starting blocks, those highly disputed articles used by sprinters and hurdlers, were to be employed for the first time by Santa Ana athletes today when Norman Paul and Alvin Reboin took their marks in the finals of the Southern California interscholastic track and field championships scheduled for Housh field in Los Angeles.

Unless rain made it impossible to carry on the meet, the cream of the Southland trackmen was to compete today. If inclement weather interferes as it did Saturday, the meet will be postponed until tomorrow but if the track is too wet then the meet will not be held at all. In this case, a committee composed of Seth Van Patten, secretary of the C.I.F.; E. W. Oliver, principal of L. A. High and Jim Rinehardt, another C.I.F. official, will pick a team to go to Berkeley Saturday for the state prep classic.

Although there has been some adverse rulings against starting blocks, the Saints noticed that many of the preps used the blocks in the preliminaries and immediately went to the school woodshop and ordered two pair.

Reboin will use them in both hurdle events while Paul will need his only for the low hurdles. On a muddy track such a firm footing is expected to materially aid the Saints because long spikes will hold the blocks firmly.

San Diego still rules the favorite to win although Santa Ana is in a good position to upset the Hill-toppers. The two long trips from the border city within three days is not expected to help the chances of Coach Broderick's defending champions.

Santa Ana's hopes rest on the shoulders of Captain Norman Paul in the low hurdles, broad jump and shot put; Alvin Reboin in the high and low hurdles and pole vault; Doyle Gilbert in the broad jump and the Saint relay team composed of Paul, Reboin, Lloyd Nuzum and James Daneri.

Arnold has been employed as a bouncer in a night club here until the club closed last week. He told police today that he tried to collect salary due him but was unsuccessful. He said he was shot by five Italians, interested in the club, as he was entering a restaurant in the vicinity of the closed club early today.

STARS TRAVEL TO LA HABRA TONIGHT

staggering Stars. Sousa, the Violet Rays' first string gunner, has pitched competently in every game his team has played, feeble hitting and lazy support costing him at least two victories. Jimmy Mansfield, colorful little southpaw who used to be a sensation in city league ranks here, may draw the nod, but Sousa is the logical choice.

La Habra held Olive 3-2, Fullerton 4-3 and Whittier 5-1. Other games were lost by wider margins. Long Beach getting away with a 7-0 count and Huntington Beach with 16-2. That was before the La Habra club was well organized.

Considerable local interest will be centered on the National League games at Anaheim and Orange tonight. Howard Morning will try to southpaw Huntington Beach to victory over the league-leading Valencia at Anaheim while the fast-moving Long Beach Acorns will be attacking George Lackaye's dangerous Orangemen at Orange.

the gymnasium—with the inevitable towel, the inevitable pail and green sweater, trimmed with the genteel business of boxing and he will reply brightly:

"I'm a trainer. I train guys, see? It's all perfectly clear. He trains guys. He doesn't know why nor how. He just trains guys and, if anybody asked him what his job called for beside holding things in the corner, he couldn't answer except to repeat with vague implication that 'guys needed training' and he was one of the guys who gave it to them."

Roger L. Shipley of Santa Ana has been following the fight fracas too long not to know a few things about the ordinary run of trainers.

Therefore, he is going to give his new protégé, "Jolting Joe" Goeders, the best there is in boxing.

For three months Goeders is going to train under George Blake, the man who taught Fidel La Barba and Jackie Fields. Shipley says he has made arrangements for Goeders to join Blake within the next few weeks. "Jolting Joe" is now barnstorming in the hinterlands. Last Friday he stopped Eddie Shea in the fourth round at Yuma, Ariz. This Friday he steps out against the old warhorse, Racehorse Roberts, another Yuma main event. May 16 Goeders will headline a show in Phoenix with Roughhouse Nelson.

PORTO RICO WORK TOLD BY WELLMANS

ANAHEIM, May 6.—Coe and Esther Wellman, missionaries in Porto Rico, have written the following letter to the Anaheim church from the Evangelical seminary, Rio Piedras, Porto Rico.

"Greetings and our gratitude to you and to your wonderful pastor from this little island—out amid the endless beating of the seas. . . Mrs. Henry H. Meyer had written Governor Roosevelt, so our first visit was to his pink palace on the sea wall. We are so happy over his great kindness that we can hardly contain ourselves. He keeps the Bible Mrs. Roosevelt gave to his famous father and a gorgeous orchid always on his desk.

"We can't tell you what it means to be missionaries in a land where it is not against the laws to preach. Here we are whirled from church to church, speaking as many times a day as strength will permit. And you should see the White Temple car plunging, splashing and chugging through the rivers. We think of you and pray for you all during every missionary journey.

STYLES TALKED OF AT MERCHANTS' MEET

ANAHEIM, May 6.—"Direct from Hollywood" is supplanting "Direct from Paris," in newspaper advertising throughout the middle west and east for women's and children's sport wearing apparel, according to the statement of President Kurt Epstein, of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' association, given before that body at its meeting in the Elks club last night.

Mr. Epstein has just returned from an extended business trip to Chicago, St. Louis and other eastern cities, where he made a study of buying and business conditions. He stated that very much to his surprise he found that leading merchants from these cities were coming to Los Angeles to buy merchandise in preference to going to New York. Their reason for this, he said, was that Los Angeles manufactured articles were better made and that the buying public was demanding Hollywood styles in preference to eastern styles.

Speaking of business conditions, Mr. Epstein said that they were similar in every section that he visited and reported to be slightly on the up grade with nothing more than a gradual improvement expected within the next 90 days.

RADIO SPEAKER OUTLINES FARM TAX SITUATION

Editor's note: The talk by Mr. Flaherty will be printed in full on the farm page of The Register on Saturday.

Problems of taxation as they affect agriculture were outlined last night by Roland D. Flaherty, executive secretary of the Orange County Farm Bureau, in an address over KREG, official broadcasting station of the Santa Ana Register.

Flaherty declared that the cost of California government has increased 35 per cent annually since 1911, while the public debt has increased 700 per cent in that time, with the population just about doubling. The assessed valuation has tripled, he said.

"Tax authorities estimate that in the United States the ownership of property, both tangible and intangible, produces not more than 20 per cent of the total net income," said the speaker. "And yet we are told by the census bureau that 75 per cent of the revenue of the states and local units of government is derived from the general property tax."

Intangible personal property often escapes taxation and the weight of the burden rests on the farmer because in the rural districts the assessors add the personality, which is generally visible and tangible, to the realty and impose the tax on both, he stated. Flaherty declared that the important thing is not real estate alone, but the earning power of a project.

The speaker commented on special taxes, such as the gasoline tax, referred to the income tax on corporations, and pointed out that it is more easy to shift taxes on improvements or intangibles than to shift taxes on real estate.

Efficiency is the watchword of the day, he declared, pointing out that the California Farm Bureau federation, working with other organizations, is trying to analyze the problem fairly and to see a solution for the situation.

"We, as farmers, are trying to meet this problem openly, frankly and constructively," he concluded.

SAN CLEMENTE MAY GET NEW THEATER

SAN CLEMENTE, May 6.—B. M. Priteca, architect, has completed an inspection of San Clemente, where he contemplates the erection of a theater. Priteca, who is declared one of America's leading theater architects, said he was much impressed with the future of San Clemente. He spent several days here gathering data, conferring with Ole Hanson, founder and builder of the city, and engineering officers.

The architect secured lot line and topographical maps from the city engineer on a theater location and stated that he contemplated designing a theater for the site.

The architect spent the week end as a guest of Ole Hanson at his beach front home. Besides making a business survey of the town he inspected a lot for a home site, stating he had visions of constructing a home in the Spanish village.

Priteca said that he would have something definite to announce on his theatrical plans for San Clemente within a few weeks.

Priteca has offices in Los Angeles and Seattle.

STATE AID FOR 11 NEEDY AGED HERE APPROVED

Inquiry today revealed that 11 of the 130 applications for state assistance for the needy aged which have been forwarded to Sacramento by Walter Gregg, director of the Orange county welfare department, since January 1, have been approved. Reports from Sacramento indicate that only one has been denied or automatically cancelled by death thus far.

Since the operation of the state law providing aid for needy persons over 70 years of age, who have lived 15 consecutive years in California, by state and county funds, has been effective, there have been 200 applications filed with the Santa Ana welfare office, Gregg stated today. Aid is being supplied to 30 of the applicants, regardless of the fact that state approval has thus far resulted in only 11 of the applications being approved to the extent of receiving state participation.

Many elderly people have misunderstood the provisions of the act, according to the county welfare commissioner, and seem to regard it in the light of a pension to which all persons over 70 are entitled. This is not correct, he explained, as it provides only for those who would not be able to live without the amounts allotted by the state and county. The act decrees that aid shall be extended only when the applicant lacks sufficient means for his support from all other sources.

Gregg declared today that operation of the state industrial compensation law was acting to rule out of employment older persons who were more likely to be injured and required longer periods for recovery when they suffered injury. "That is one reason for the fact that so many gray haired people cannot get work," he said.

A study is being made in the state headquarters of the relief bureau in an endeavor to discover employment suitable to conditions of these old people and thus fit them for occupations that will keep them happy. In commenting on the operation of the state aid for needy aged, Esther De Turbeville, chief, made the following statement:

"The outstanding feature in looking over these applications, all from people over 70 years of age, is the fact that, although faced with permanent unemployment, they still complain that 'state aid is only necessary until I can find regular work.' Courage and optimism are outstanding impressions received while reading the petitions. To date we have approved 1358 of the 4321 applications on file, with only 37 being denied or cancelled."

The reports from Sacramento show that there are many dramatic and interesting statements that crop up in the reports of physical condition in the applications. Some of the answers follow:

"Only one finger left on each hand; one leg off at knee and other foot partly gone, but can walk very well on crutches." This was from

Major Donald Winans, below at the left, formerly was captain of Company L, National Guard, in Santa Ana. He was present at last night's weekly drill for the first time as major of the battalion in this district. Captain Jimmy Cain, at the right, was in charge of the Company L drill last night, for the first time. Major Winans and Captain Cain have just been promoted to their new posts.

NEW OFFICERS ARE RECEIVED BY COMPANY L

Company L, 185 Infantry, California National Guard, met at the armory on Birch street last night to welcome its new Captain, Jimmy Cain, and at the same time to congratulate its old captain, now Major D. L. Winans.

The occasion was the regular weekly drill of the company and it was the first time that Captain Cain has had charge of the company.

Major Winans, who has been in charge of the company for the past several years, recently was promoted to major and has charge of the battalion made up of companies here, Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino. He was standing by last night to see his old organization fall into new hands.

Cain, a world war veteran, who went through five major engagements on the western front during the war, as a non-commissioned officer in the Rainbow division, was commissioned by the state at the time Winans was promoted. Cain is a state traffic officer in Orange county.

Mexico City, the capital of Mexico, dates, traditionally, from the year 1325 or 1327, when the Aztecs settled on an island in Lake Texcoco.

An old saw filer and mender of mowing machines.

Other complaints include "Shy of toes," "Rheumatism and the likes of that," "Struck on the head with a 40-foot pipe, cracked my neck and sorter put my legs out of commission."

Many of the applications for assistance end with statements similar to this: "I worked many years for a lumber company and could be useful yet, but am too old. They refuse to let me work."

That Mrs. Hazel Thomas Northcross would head the Business and Professional Women's club during the coming year, was definitely indicated yesterday when the weekly meeting at St. Ann's Inn was devoted to nomination of officers. There will be very little contest when election is held on Monday, May 26, for, with the exception of treasurer, but one candidate was named for each office.

The ticket as it will be presented, will be Mrs. Northcross, president; Miss Lena Thomas and Mrs. Loyd King, first and second vice presidents; Miss Emma Lee Johnson, secretary; Miss Myrtle Meyer and Mrs. Charles Blackburn, treasurer; Mrs. Leslie Eckel, sergeant-at-arms; Mrs. Adelaide Cochran and Dr. Hester Oewiler, directors.

She also asked for reservations for a southern district board meeting and presidents' council to be held in Alhambra First M. E. church with a turkey dinner at the Elks club, on Saturday, May 10.

A letter from Long Beach club, announcing the pirates' den to be invaded there when the district convention is held there next month, was read, and Mrs. Della Maude Ryan told of the exhibit which she and Miss Alma Sweet are planning for the Santa Ana club.

As the entertainment feature of yesterday's meeting, Miss Mayme Pargess, leader and violinist; G. Brightwell, May program chairman, introduced Miss Ruth Campbell, who gave a clever monologue, "Fording Around." CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

A lesson-sermon on "Everlasting Punishment" was presented Sunday in the Santa Ana First Church of Christ, Scientist.

One of the Scripture selections included the exhortations of Ezekiel: "When a righteous man turneth away from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, and dieth in them; for his iniquity that he hath done shall he die. . . . Repent, and turn yourselves from all your transgressions; so iniquity shall not be your ruin. Cast away from you all your transgressions, whereby ye have transgressed; and make you a new heart and a new spirit: for why will ye die, O house of Israel? For I have no pleasure in the death of him that dieth, saith the Lord God: wherefore turn yourselves, and live ye."

A correlative passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, stated: "It is error to suffer for aught but your own sins. Christ, or Truth, will destroy all other supposed suffering, and real suffering for your own sins will cease in proportion as the sin ceases."

MILLION DOLLAR SMILES

No wonder Mr. and Mrs. George Pierce, below, are smiling. They've just been awarded $1,600,000 in royalties on two Oklahoma City oil wells. Two years ago the Pierces signed what they thought was only an oil lease on their 20 acres. Later they learned they had signed away royalty rights. They filed suit and the court decided in their favor.

Young People To Give Program At Revival Services

ORANGE, May 6.—"Stars and Stripes Forever" was given on the marimba by Delyn Hornaday, accompanied by Clarence Peterson, at the union services held in the Methodist church Monday. The Rev. H. B. Ireland, evangelist, spoke on "Choose You This Day Whom Ye Will Serve," bringing out the thought that we cannot serve two masters.

"The Old Rugged Cross" will be given in pantomime by the young people tonight. Mrs. Ireland gave a talk to the children in the Presbyterian church Monday afternoon. "The Best People in Town" will be given by Mrs. Ireland Wednesday at the Christian church at 3 o'clock.

Druggist Speaks At Kiwanis Meet

FULLERTON, May 6.—Frank Mortensen, secretary of the Southern California Retail Druggists' association, was the principal speaker at the meeting of the Fullerton Kiwanis club at noon yesterday in McFarland's cafe, discussing the Capper-Kelly bill, a measure which he said had been before congress for a period of approximately 15 years and which is designed to further "fair play" among competitors in the manufacture and resale of trademarked products.

Dan O'Hanlon was named chairman of the program committee for the annual Kiwanis benefit show, which will be given soon. The program yesterday was presented by the business standards committee of the club, with John Strickland as program chairman. Jess Hardy introduced the speaker.

ESTIMATE COST OF PROJECT TO REACH $89,000

The Water Conservation association, meeting at the site yesterday, authorized advertisement for bids to be received on May 28 for construction of a weir in the Santa Ana river. It was announced here today by W. W. Hoy, a member of the organization.

The engineer's estimate of the cost is $89,000.

The purpose of the weir, Hoy said, is to divert to the spreading cone above San Bernardino, water from the Santa Ana river at the time of heavy flows. Attempts to use rock dams for the purpose have not been satisfactory, according to the local civil engineer.

The weir project is to be financed by the counties of Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino. Its construction will make it possible to sink into the ground more water than has been possible in past freshets, the conserved water finally finding its way to the San Bernardino and Santa Ana basins, it was said.

At the bridge game attractive prizes went to Mrs. E. L. Heiss, Mrs. Owen Moore, second, and Mrs. Larry Golden, third. Spring blossoms of many lovely varieties were used in the decorations and when the refreshment course was served, crystal vases which held a cluster of roses were used on the tables.

Is Hostess at Unusual Luncheon Event

Mrs. Chester E. Blacow was hostess Saturday at a vanishing luncheon, one of the last of a series given by Ebells society members. The event was planned as a picnic in Trabuco canyon but when guests and hostess arrived at the entrance to this beauty spot, a heavy storm broke and they enjoyed the unusual experience of having a luncheon served in the cars while the rain pattered merrily outside. On the return home the group drove through Laguna and spent a short time on the beach. Those enjoying Mrs. Blacow's hospitality were Mrs. Minnie Holmes, Mrs. C. A. Westgate, Miss Ida May and Miss Mame Havens.

Engagement Told In Unusual Manner

Mrs. R. H. Barnard, 1238 South Van Ness street, was hostess at a charmingly arranged party Saturday when the announcement was made of the engagement of Miss Evelyn Greider to Charles Percy Atwood.

As each guest entered the room she was given a number and was told to keep it for future reference. After an evening spent in sewing and amusing games, the guests were taken to the dining room where a miniature mountain scene had been fashioned on the dining room table. Behind the peaks could be seen the deep blue of a midnight sky, dusted with stars, and through the clouds the moon shone over the mountains at the foot of which a tiny lake shimmered in the silver light. The room was lighted by the small electric lights used about the lake.

A forest of dead trees crowned the mountains and at the slopes were orange trees in bloom. Guests were instructed to find the number they held, on the sails of the fleet of hand-carved boats floating on the water. Under a gold heart on each sail, a tiny folder was concealed and here were found pictures of Miss Greider and her fiancé and on another leaf of the folder was written, "Evelyn and Sandy, May 29."

Miss Greider is a member of the Rankins' sales force and has lived in this city for the past seven years, coming here from Colorado. She is a graduate of the Santa Ana high school, class of 1927, and is very popular. Mr. Atwood is connected with the Crystal Cleaning company of this city and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Atwood of Orange.

Decorations for the affair were carried out in yellow and green and delectable refreshments were served on individual trays. Guests present with the hostess were the Misses Evelyn Greider, Jeanette Hammerstead, Jane Crawford, Peggy Frick, Margaret Bowen, Evelyn Scherbert, Debba Bendis, Ruth Sanford, Corinne Pennington, Mildred Lukins, Ann Dorothy Osborn of Anaheim; and Mesdames Elmer Thompson, Geoffrey Wilde, Walter Greider, Roy Yoder and Aniska Orndorf.

Popular Teacher Is Married Sunday

Miss Ethel Whitlock, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Whitlock, 1018 North Van Ness avenue, was married Sunday at a quiet wedding to Huston Glenn of Newport Beach. The wedding took place in the lovely Helene apartments on the point where the young people will establish their new home, and the service was read by the Rev. J. Murray of Newport Beach.

The rooms were very lovely with tall vases and baskets of summer lilacs and gladioli. The bride wore a gown of white satin cut on longlines with full skirt, carried bride's roses in a lovely shower. Her veil was fastened in coronet effect with a wreath of orange blossoms. The young people were unattended. After the ceremony a reception was held at which about forty guests were present, out of town guests including the bride's brother, L. C. Whitlock of Escondido. Mrs. C. J. Whitlock, the bride's mother presided at the coffee service where a buffet supper was served. Assisting Mrs. Whitlock in serving were Miss Rosemund Walker, Miss Lois Wheeler, Mrs. Graham Ward and Mrs. Matilda Graham.

The bride is principal of the Washington school at Garden Grove, and the bridegroom recently established himself in business in Newport. They will take a honeymoon trip in the northern part of the state after school closes in the spring.

Fraternal Aid Union

Fraternal Brotherhood members shared a pleasant meeting last week with approximately 100 present to share the program of cards and dancing, planned by a committee composed of Mr. and Mrs. George Hendle, Mr. and Mrs. Almond Mahan, Miss Lulla Berge and Earl Hutchinson.

To complete the hospitality planned by this group, strawberry shortcake and coffee were served. In the business session, Mrs. William Harding was reported among those who are seriously ill; William Robbins as able to return from the hospital; Lew Parker as being still confined to his home by illness, and both Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hansen as being seriously ill.

Wedding at St. Joseph's Unites Young People Of This City

Before a congregation of 80 relatives and intimate friends, Miss Della Fowler, charming daughter of Mrs. Hannah Kerr, 718 West Eighth street, was united in marriage with Ernest Velarde, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Velarde, 1301 West Third street, at 6:30 o'clock Saturday night by Father F. A. Wakemann, rector of St. Joseph's Catholic church, in the church.

The beautiful altar was decorated with a myriad of spring blossoms, and electric candles and tall waxen tapers illuminated the church softly, with a lovely soft light.

Miss Josephine Madrid played the organ solos and accompaniments for Miss Ruth LaLonde, who sang in her charming soprano voice, "Ave Maria, Beautiful Star of the Sea." When the organ swung into the strains of the Lohengrin march, the bride procession entered, preceded by the bride by two tiny flower girls, the Misses Yvonne and June Huntzinger, trooped in rose silk with rose bonnets, who scattered flower petals from their baskets in the path of the bride party. Miss Viola O'Brien of Alhambra, the maid of honor, wore a frock of rose silk, with jeweled bandeau in her hair, and carried a shower bouquet.

The beautiful young bride entered on the arm of her elder brother, Claude Huntzinger. She was crowned in exquisitely molded white chiffon which fell in graceful folds to her ankles, and her embroidered real lace veil was caught to her head by a wreath of fragrant orange blossoms down the side of her head. She carried a shower bouquet of white brides' roses and white sweet peas with maidenhair ferns.

At the altar, she joined the bridegroom and just as the services were being read by the Rev. Father Wakemann, the storm of rain which had been in full force outside the church ceased, and a glorious rainbow was arched across the sky, seeming to the young people to be an omen of special joy and happiness.

A reception followed the ceremony, to which only the members of the immediate families of the couple were invited, and the large wedding cake was presented to them by "Andy" of Tony's cafe. Mrs. Kerr herself prepared the bride's cake for her daughter.

Following the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Velarde left for San Diego, where they are now enjoying a week's wedding trip. For her traveling costume, Mrs. Velarde wore a smart sports ensemble in shades of tan, with accessories in beige. On their return, the couple will make their home here.

Of interest was the fact that both the families of the bride and bridegroom are natives of California, and the mother and sister of the bride are Native Daughters of the Golden West. The local chapter attended the wedding ceremony and presented the couple with an attractive etching. Mr. Velarde and his bride both attended the Santa Ana schools, graduating from high school, where Mr. Velarde was prominent in athletic activities. He is now in business in Santa Ana.

Day Nursery Drive Scheduled for Thursday

Santa Ana housewives, whether or not they are members of the Ebells society, are busily overhauling their wardrobes and their homes, these days, hunting out articles of dress and of household equipment which they no longer need and which they are planning to contribute to the annual spring drive of Ebells' Day Nursery board, which is scheduled for Thursday.

The Day Nursery, Ebells' pet project, is of interest to everyone in the city aware of the good accomplished at the little home at 610 Garfield street, where dozens of children are cared for daily, while their mothers earn the money to maintain their modest homes. There is a small fee exacted for this care, which includes supervised play, carefully balanced meals, and a rest period for the small tots. But of course the money thus earned is not sufficient to maintain the nursery, so the Day Nursery board of Ebells society also conducts a store room in connection with the venture, where garments are renovated and frequently remodeled, to be sold to patrons at sums within their means.

Household furniture also is received and passed on. A case in question was a 9 by 12 rug sent a few weeks ago by a helpful friend in Long Beach. The rug remained at the store-room only a few hours when an eager purchaser found that it exactly suited her needs. Any house-furnishings are in constant demand, as are garments suitable for either adults or children.

And of course the nursery is in constant need of home-canned fruits and jellies to serve the small charges. So there is scarcely a thing but what would be very acceptable by the board members and workers.

Previous "drives" for supplies have been so successful that the board members are making them an annual event, and the one on Thursday is expected to net them many pieces of furniture and articles of clothing which will be in popular demand by patrons.

Mrs. Clyde A. Bach is chairman of this board, and her sister workers are Mrs. Perry E. Lewis, Mrs. C. S. Dunphy, Mrs. T. F. Ham, Mrs. C. H. Lurker, Mrs. W. E. Watkins, Mrs. M. C. Williams, Mrs. Edward C. Erwin and Mrs. W. W. Kays. Anyone that has donations of any kind for the nursery may telephone any member of this board, and the gifts will be called for. In previous years, T. F. Ham has placed one of his big trucks and a driver at the disposal of the women, and has spent the full day collecting donations.

Well-known Actor Will Follow Season with South Seas Trip

In connection with the appearance in this city on Friday and Saturday nights, May 9 and 10, of Richard Garrick, well-known actor-manager who is appearing with marked success in a Southland entertainment tour, Santa Anans will be interested in learning of a South seas voyage which Garrick and his manager, Frederick S. Coby, are planning for the summer months.

They have chartered the four-masted schooner, the "W. H. Harriman," now lying at her dock in Los Angeles Harbor, and on June 15, will leave for the South seas in a glamorous voyage to gather material and motion pictures for future engagements on the lecture platform and on the screen.

Frederick O'Brien, noted author of "White Shadows in the South Seas," which followed its prestige as one of the "Six Best Sellers" with an equal popularity as a motion picture, has aided them in planning the itinerary, and from his extensive knowledge of that romantic region, has given them a fund of information as to strange and little-known regions which they will visit. Their course will take them far from the beaten trails, in among the lesser known islands rarely visited except by the copra and pearl traders.

Garrick plans to stage and direct scenes of native life and tribal affairs for future screen productions, and will head a company of actors making pictures at various points. The schooner will be manned by a crew of 40, and in addition to the company which Garrick and Coby are taking, they are accepting reservations from those to whom the "Red Gods" call. A number of college students have already made reservations because of the unusual educational advantages offered.

Annual Party Held In Beach Town

The atmospheric Travaglini's in San Clemente, as well as the social clubhouse provided charming settings Saturday night for the annual employees' party of the First National bank and the Farmers' and Merchants' bank.

The veritable tournament of golf, tennis and other popular outdoor sports which had been planned for the occasion were postponed because of the sudden shower, and instead the guests enjoyed an early dinner at Travaglini's.

The San Clemente clubhouse was arranged with 11 tables of bridge, and a prize went to each man and woman holding high score at the individual tables. An orchestra from Santa Ana provided the music, and dancing was also enjoyed during the evening.

Harry Hanson and Jack Bascom were in charge of general arrangements for the evening. About 120 employees of the combined banks shared the very pleasant occasion.

The MIXING BOWL by ANN MEREDITH

Stretching the Dessert

Necessity has mothered more inventions than genius has produced premeditatedly. This adage applies peculiarly to cooking, for every woman can think of some time when she was short an important ingredient and forced to substitute, literally pulled a something better out of the blue sky.

You will be amused and interested in my way of meeting such an emergency: Son-and-Her descended on me for dinner one night last week with three ravenous members of the Thundering Herd, and what to do for dessert for six when it was planned for only three was my immediate problem.

The dessert planned for dinner was put back in the refrigerator and half of a stale chocolate loaf cake was put to steam over hot water. This was put in generous slices and served with a sumshus sauce made by blending together three tablespoons of butter, three of flour, the juice of a lemon and a half a cup of sugar. Two cups of hot water were added and the whole cooked to a smooth sauce.

This went over hot water and part of a stray glass of loganberry jelly was added to it and left to melt. Two egg whites were whipped very dry, four tablespoons of powdered sugar and a half teaspoon of almond flavoring added. Just before serving time, the hot sauce was whipped smoothly into the whipped whites and served, piping hot in generous quantities over the cake slices.

Judging from the unrestrained plaudits my sauce was a grand success. When boys mess their food around on the plate and are politely evasive about liking said food you can just bank on it that something is wrong, but when it disappears like magic, manners along with it you know you have served something 100 per cent right.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Chicken Creole

1 large stewing chicken
1 cup bacon fat
1 1/2 cups flour
Salt and pepper
3 large onions
2 green peppers
1-2 bunch celery
1 small bunch parsley
10 cloves of garlic
1 tablespoon paprika
1-2 teaspoon cayenne
Boiling water to cover chicken.
Now, don't gasp for breath and think the 10 garlic cloves a misprint! The chicken cooks so long that the garlic cooks out and leaves a composite flavor that is indescribably good. Just take my word for it, that guests who would turn up their noses at the mention of anything so piebald as garlic, will ask for a second helping of this chicken dish!

Buy a chicken weighing five or six pounds and too old to bake nicely. Prepare and unjoint it, dip each piece in seasoned flour and brown in hot fat. Transfer to a large cooking kettle and brown the remaining flour in the fat. Scrape the skillet over the chicken and rinse to get all the brown color from pan.

Peel and prepare all vegetables but the garlic, and put them through the food grinder, add to the chicken with seasonings, sprinkle the minced garlic over and cover the chicken with boiling water. Let boil up to thicken the gravy (it must be thin, remember, to take care of evaporation). Cover the kettle tightly and over the top place a folded tea towel to keep the steam in.

Set over a low flame where it will barely simmer for at least eight hours. Stir occasionally. When finished the chicken will be very tender and the gravy will be brown and perfectly delicious. Warned over, it is even better. Rabbit can be cooked this way, too.

This chicken dish will serve five people twice if plenty of hot biscuits are served the second time. I'm sure you don't have to have that explained. A portion of the Chicken Creole has a calorie value of some 400, half of which are energy calories, but who cares!

Those marvelous recipes for French-Italian cooking are available all this week if you will send in a stamped, self-addressed envelope for a free copy.

The lesson for tomorrow will be on making potato cases to hold buttered vegetables.

Officers Are Elected At Recent Meeting Of D. A. R.

The lovely Colonial home of Mrs. James E. Paul was chosen by the Daughters of the American Revolution as the meeting place for their annual May meeting which was held on Saturday afternoon.

During the business session preceding the program Mrs. John Clarkson was elected to serve a second term as regent of the chapter and her present corps of assisting officers were re-elected to serve with her, who were, Mrs. Earl Morris, vice regent; Mrs. J. H. Nicholson, recording secretary; Mrs. John E. Backus, corresponding secretary; Mrs. C. E. Brown, treasurer; Mrs. Mac O. Robbins, registrar; Mrs. O. S. Catland, historian, and Mrs. Al-mira Frost Hudson, chaplain. The advisory board consists of Mrs. Edith W. Thatcher, Mrs. Leonard G. Swales, Mrs. W. H. Haddon and Mrs. Minnie Holmes.

The program presented by Miss Doris Robbins was an interesting review of the book, "Washington Past and Present," by Charles Moore, chairman of the National

Fine Arts commission. The book traces the development of the District of Columbia from the time when congress charged our first president with the duty of directing the laying out of the Federal city. The author pays tribute to the sound judgment of Washington and of Jefferson regarding the building of the nation's capitol and devotes a chapter to the life of the engineer, Pierre Charles L'Enfant, American patriot of French birth, who was employed to plan the city.

Each chapter of the book has a special subject. The arts, sculpture, parks and congressional library of Washington are among the subjects treated.

In her review Miss Robbins referred to the government of the city of congress with a executive board of three commissioners and to the fact that the expenses of the city of congress with an executive and in part by local taxation.

Mention was made of the efforts to rectify unsatisfactory conditions resulting from some unfortunate divergencies from the original plans.

In recent years congress has come to an appreciation of the fundamental ideas of beauty embodied in the early plans and now seeks to gain a relationship between all public buildings to form a harmonious composition.

From the chapter on architecture, Miss Robbins read a paragraph referring to the classic beauty of the D. A. R. memorial building and Constitution Hall and of the official and civic needs which the two buildings have frequently met.

At the close of the meeting, Mrs. Paul was assisted in serving refreshments by Mrs. John Clarkson and Mrs. A. J. Cruikshank who poured tea, while Miss Mabel McFadden, Mrs. George Bond, Miss Harriet Whidden and Mrs. E. A. Phillee aided in other hostess duties.

Many lingered for an inspection of the beautiful gardens surrounding the home, enjoying the vivid freshness of flower and shrub with moisture from the recent shower.

GETS STATE POST

Mrs. Dexter R. Ball was elected state secretary of the auxiliary of the state medical association at the convention held at Del Monte April 28-29. It was learned here today, Mrs. R. A. Cushman, of this city formerly held this position. Mrs. Harry Zaiser was another member of the local auxiliary present at the meeting.

PARAMOUNT STARS MEET ON PARADE

"Paramount on Parade," a picture that calls for just what the name implies, is seen and heard now at the Fox Broadway theater. The film, opened there yesterday and shows through Thursday night.

With every star and featured player on the Paramount lot in the picture, not merely appearing, but actually taking leading parts, it is the first time that stars are seen mingling with each other in a performance.

The show never has a dull moment. It snaps from one scene to another, with all the stars being seen in new lights. Maurice Chevalier's song numbers are probably the prettiest of the show, but each star's part will stick out in memory of the audience.

'RIVER WOMAN' IS TEMPLE OFFERING

"The River Woman," starring Lionel Barrymore and Jacqueline Logan, opens tonight for a three night's run at Shelley's Temple theater.

The picture depicts life as it really is but as few know it to be among the "river rats" along the Mississippi.

Simply full of action, thrills, tense dramatic moments, and with an abundance of comedy, "The River Woman" is one of the outstanding silents of the year.

RAMONA PAGEANT TO CLOSE SUNDAY

HEMET, May 6.—Final performances of the 1930 season of the spectacular Ramona pageant will be given in the Ramona bowl at Hemet, Saturday and Sunday afternoons. In its four performances to date this year the Ramona play has set a new standard for the outdoor drama in California and has attracted record breaking crowds.

Capacity crowds are expected at each of the final performances. A natural amphitheater at the foot of Mt. San Jacinto has seats for 6000 spectators.

CROOK PLAY TO END AT WALKER TONIGHT

"Those Who Dance," Warner Bros. high-tensioned crook drama featuring Monte Blue, Lila Lee, William Boyd and Betty Compton is closing tonight at Walker's State theater.

Blue's ability to don unusual makeups is made full use of in this story of a policeman's search for the murderer of his younger brother, a search that takes him, disguised as a gangster, into the very household of the man he is trying to "get."

In order to get the goods on the murderer, he poses as the sweet heart of the heroine, who lives in the crook's house. She abets him in this because success will free her brother from the death house.

'LOVE RACKET' CONTINUES RUN

"The Love Racket," featuring Dorothy Mackaill, pretty little English star who was seen here recently in "The Great Divide," continues its run at the Fox West Coast theater today. The picture, which opened yesterday, plays through tomorrow night.

The picture is taken from the book, "The Woman on the Jury." It concerns a girl, who, engaged to a man, is called with him for jury service and sits through a murder trial. The defendant is charged with murdering a man who refused to marry her after he had wronged her.

While the case is being tried Miss Mackaill realizes that she almost had the same experience with the same man, two years before, and she votes to free the girl.

THE TINYMITES
STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

When with their race the girls were done, wee Scouty said, "Let's have some fun. We'll be real kind to all the girls 'cause they've been kind to us. With clever thoughts I think I'm blessed. Now listen to what I'll suggest, and please do not get cross at me and try to start a fuss."

"Let's jump right on the track right now and run a race. I'll show you how. The girls can climb up in the stand and have a wondrous treat." And so the girls sat down nearby. The bunch then heard one of them cry, "Get set and go!" And then there was a scampering of wee feet.

The Tinties raced around the track. It seemed that they would never get back. Of course it was, to little boys, a mighty long, long run. But, finally, they came around, all tramping on the hard, hard ground. The girls all clapped and cried, "That was a heap of real good fun." The balloon which brought them to the track was then all set to take them back real quickly to the big airport, located at Berlin. They hopped aboard and left the ground and shortly landed, safe and sound. They thanked the pilot for the ride. He answered with a grin.

"We'll now go quickly into town and get a meal, cooked nice and brown," exclaimed the friendly Travel Man. An auto turned the trick. When once in grand Berlin, 'twas great. They found a place and ate and ate. When they were through the Tinties agreed the food was great.

It wasn't long until they took a walk. 'Twas lots of fun to look into the big store windows. Here and there the bunch would start. One of the funny scenes they spied pleased Clowny and he loudly cried, "Oh, here's a friendly peddler lady, with a funny cart."

(The Tinties see a funny home in the next story.)

Missing Letter Links

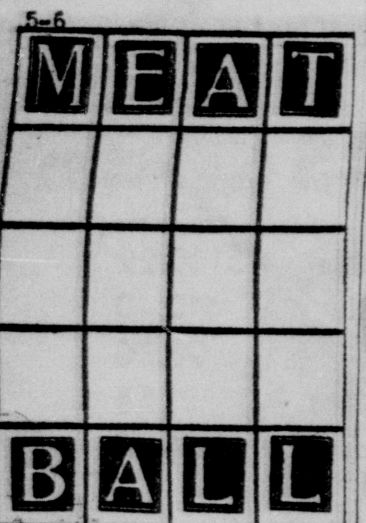

RULES:

1. In playing golf on the Missing Letter Links the object is to change one word to another in a given number of strokes which is par. For example to go from TEE to PIN in three strokes sounds hard but isn't: TEE-TIE-PIE-PIN. It's probably more difficult on a real course.

2. Change but one letter at a time and be sure the word you have used is one in good usage.

3. The order of the letters cannot be changed.

MEAT to BALL—This hole should prove easy for you to digest. It's a simple par three, appealing to the appetite of the golf-hungry bug.

Societies To Meet

The Woman's Home and Missionary society of the First Methodist church will hold its regular all day meeting next Tuesday.

The home society will convene at 10:30 a. m. in the women's parlors of the church with an opening hymn and prayer, followed by a report of the third quarterly conference at Glendale will be given. All unpaid dues and thank offerings must be in the hands of the treasurer by May 15, it is announced.

Devotions and the program will be led by Mrs. S. W. Smith. Luncheon will be served at 12:30 and at 1:30 p. m. the Foreign society will be called to order by the president, Mrs. S. W. Windle. The devotional topic, "O, Jerusalem, Jerusalem," will be given by Mrs. C. H. Keniston.

"International Contracts" will be discussed by Mrs. R. A. Maraden. Mrs. R. L. Chambers will bring some current missionary topic before the group.

Music for the all-day meeting will be furnished by girls from the junior college.

Program Enjoyed

Mother's day was the theme of the Fullerton Ebell club at its meeting Friday. Luncheon was served at noon to a large number of members as well as to the public. The luncheon was in charge of the economics section of the club with Mrs. W. L. Hale as chairman.

In the afternoon, a program was presented which included a Mother's day play by the drama section and a musical program.

Mrs. O. M. Thompson was in charge of the play with Mrs. W. I. Caine as director. Alfred Bertrand was in charge of the musical program which was presented under the auspices of the music section, of which Mrs. Floyd Annin is chairman.

Books Reviewed

Present day trends of literature were told to nearly 200 book-lovers of Fullerton Tuesday evening at the Ebell clubhouse by Miss Helen Haines, Pasadena book reviewer. Miss Haines came to Fullerton under the auspices of the Monday Afternoon Book club in its series of book talks.

Mrs. S. C. Hartranft, president of the club, presided and introduced Leonora Pierotti, Dorothea Worsley and Margaret Hartranft, Fullerton union high school girls, who read original poems, written for the high school annual verse book.

In the beginning of her talk, Miss Haines explained the purpose of books as a means to interpret life. She urged a tolerant attitude toward modern frankness in books and quoted Clyde Bell's comment that civilized persons are unshockable. The idea that in civilized socety all subjects are discussable does away with squeamishness in judging books if they interpret life, she said.

Miss Haines added a book not announced in her program, a new book concerning Capistrano mission, "Capistrano Nights," by Father St. John O'Sullivan, pastor of the mission. It is a collection of stories whose value lies in preserving the memories and traditions fast passing into oblivion, she said.

Club Entertained

Mrs. A. H. T. Osborne and Mrs. Chauncey Orton were co-hostesses in the Osborne home on North Spadina road Wednesday to the Sans Souci Bridge club, with the full membership present. Prize winners were Mrs. W. E. Emery and Mrs. A. R. Volk.

Members were seated at one long table which was decorated with a large bowl of Cecil Bruner roses with trailers of the same flowers the length of the table. Green candles tied with pink tulle added to the effect. The rooms were decorated with baskets of amaryllis and delphiniums.

Seated were Mrs. Ralph Adams, Mrs. Roy Davis, Mrs. Frank Dausser, Mrs. C. B. Nonamaker, Mrs. Sarah Roberts, Mrs. S. A. Salvason, Mrs. Grant Brown and Mrs. Julia Carpenter.

The next hostesses will be Mrs. Carpenter and Mrs. Brown at the next meeting of the club in the home of Mrs. Brown next Wednesday.

CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE

CHICAGO, May 6.—(UP)—Wheat had a firm tone throughout the session on the board of trade today and closed with large gains. The absence of heavy selling pressure coupled with a strong stock market and firm cables inspired a better demand and while selling increased on the hard spots, sellers were cautious and the market absorbed the offers fairly easily. Corn and oats scored good gains with wheat.

At the close wheat was 1 1/2 to 2 1/2c higher, corn was 3/4 to 1 1/2c higher and oats was 3/4 to 1c higher. Provisions were steady to weak.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, May 6.—(UP)—United States Steel, Westinghouse Electric and Radio Corporation led the stock market upward today in the broadest rally since the selling wave began its flop after the Easter holiday period.

Trading quieted down to what was considered normal. Tickers stayed abreast and tape that gave the true status of the market, easy money at 3 per cent, stimulated investment buying. Shorts covered leisurely at first, looking for another reaction. Later they were more eager to buy back stock. Their operations were partly responsible for the advance.

Gains ranged from 1 to 65 points in the majority of issues. Some of the high priced shares soared as much as 20 points.

EVENING SALUTATION

"The idea that the Republic was created for the benefit of the individual is a mockery that must be eradicated at the first dawn of understanding."

—President Hoover.

GOVERNOR YOUNG

In another column of today's paper is published the announcement of Governor C. C. Young that he is again a candidate for the nomination for Governor of this state.

We believe that the statement of Governor Young as it appears cannot be improved upon as a declaration of purpose and of fact in respect to his administration of the office of Governor. There is nothing more expensive for taxpayers than to change the occupants of offices of executive character, who are carrying on great enterprises for the body politic, when such officials have an intelligent grasp of the situation, have business acumen, and are devoting themselves unreservedly to the public weal. We believe these things to be true of Governor C. C. Young.

We can conceive of no cause which could be served by not renominating Governor Young other than selfish personal ambition and a poor brand of politics. Governor Young is among the few outstanding chief executives of states in our union who have the ability and the initiative, together with the conscience and character, to apply business principles to the conduct of the state, uncontrolled by either personal or factional politics. We believe the more thoroughly the reorganization of the state departments is studied, the more completely will Governor Young's administration receive the approval of thinking men. Governor Young has brought to the administration of the state government a keen mind, years of experience in public life, and a training both through education and experience.

He possesses a grasp of the economic, educational and social problems of the state that is unsurpassed, we believe, by any executive in America. Those in charge of the various departments, together with the workers under them, have caught the spirit that dominates the chief executive, and the various departments of the state are being carried on, in our judgment, with efficiency and in altogether a business-like manner.

Surely those who are interested in the good of the state above the interest of individuals will feel that there is only one thing to do, and that is to continue the administration for another four years to insure the completion of the plans which are being carried out, and to protect the state from the loss that would necessarily result from the change of the plans or a change in the personnel in carrying out these plans. If there were any substantial reason why change should be made, we should be glad to point it out.

Two candidates have presented themselves for the nomination as against the Governor. One of these is the Mayor of San Francisco. Mayor Rolph is a genial, friendly gentleman, whose ideas and ideals are well typified in San Francisco's government, but we have yet to come in contact with even a citizen of San Francisco, many of whom we have met, and nearly all of whom are friends of the Mayor, who have not declared that some of the qualities which kept the Mayor at the head of the city, unfit him for the office of Governor of this commonwealth.

Governor Young makes one declaration that brings out in bold relief the character of the man in contradistinction to San Francisco's mayor, which we believe will be sufficient for thinking voters, when he says: "I have never tried to conceal my stand on any public question. For example, every Californian knows my conviction that as long as the Eighteenth Amendment is the law of the land it must be observed and enforced as such. I have no sympathy with a candidacy that compromises this issue or seeks to undermine or weaken the fundamental law."

Burton Fitts is the other candidate challenging the Governor. Mr. Fitts is the District Attorney of Los Angeles county. If there is a task in this state more important than that of Governor, Mr. Fitts faces that task in his present office. He is engaged at the present moment in a momentous undertaking of making crooks and thieves know that law is regnant in Los Angeles county. We cannot believe that this work was entered into for effect or to gain notoriety for another office.

We believe the apparent purpose of the District Attorney to desert his incomplete job for another which, may for the moment appear more attractive, is a mistake of the head and not the heart. If Mr. Fitts is making good or believes he is, he owes it to himself, to the people who elected him, and to the government itself to stay long enough to either accomplish results in a thorough clean-up of the county or acknowledge he is not the one to do it.

We can conceive of nothing by which he can show greater loyalty to the ideals and purposes of President Hoover, than to be his right arm in Los Angeles county, in performing his part of the task in law enforcement, which President Hoover has repeatedly declared to be the greatest task now confronting America. To praise the President on the one hand and desert such a post as that on the other and at the same moment, are out of harmony with carefully thought-out sincere purpose. We believe that Mr. Fitts permits his impulsive disposition to get the better of his judgment. He will thank the voters eventually for keeping him in his present unfinished job. His reliability and future preferment must rest on work well done, not simply started. By the same token that Mr. Young asks to be continued on his job, Mr. Fitts should be continued on his.

We are not factionalists; we are not interested in any schemes of factionalists or political chicanery which it is proposed to use for the advancement of any particular candidate. We have watched for the last three years the character of administration that has been given us by Governor C. C. Young, and we believe it would be difficult to improve upon that administration. Certainly neither candidate now before the public would give us such assurance.

We are in a crucial period of our country's life. We need men in various positions of executive power who are sane, tried, able, clean, purposeful, steadfast, and who have an equilibrium which insures a poise and reliability. Governor Young has these in full and rounded measure.

For keeping dates you've got to hand it to the Mesopotamia gale which recently prevented locusts from destroying crops of them.

ACCESSORIES TO CRIME

The Supreme Court has taken long delayed action in respect to the implement and materials held for public sale calculated to violate the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead Act. The court has declared and unanimously. The Supreme Court's language is as follows:

"The property in question was containers, barrels, bottles, corks, labels, cartons, etc. By the statute it is 'unlawful to have or possess any liquor or property designed for the manufacture of liquor intended for use in violating this chapter or which has been so used, and no property rights shall exist in any such liquor or property. A search warrant may issue and such liquor, the containers thereof and such property so seized shall be subject to such disposition as the court may make thereof. If it is found that such liquor or property was so unlawfully held or possessed or had been so unlawfully used, the liquor and all property designed for the unlawful manufacture of liquor shall be destroyed, unless the court shall otherwise order. . . ."

"The decisions under the revenue acts have little weight as against legislation under the affluents of the Eighteenth Amendment. We are of the opinion that the word is used in this looser way, and that if the empty containers and other objects seized were offered for sale in such a mode as purposely to attract purchasers who wanted them for unlawful manufacture, as we interpret the word, they were designed for that manufacture and could be seized."

We have often wondered as implements have been exhibited in public places for sale, and as malt syrup unquestionably designed for the home brewing of liquor has been publicly advertised, why with the efforts being put forth to curb law violation, these things were permitted to go on unmolested. Very apparently they will not.

This action, which was brought by the Supreme Court, is further evidence of a determination on the part of our administration to enforce the law. We believe the position is well taken. One of the ingredients of crime is the profit that is made from it. The inducement offered by the manufacturer or seller of kegs, kettles, malt syrup, etc., we have always believed, to be morally at least a part of the crime. The Supreme Court has sustained this position legally.

After all, it is difficult to tell who is the most guilty at heart,—the merchant who for a little more profit, gathers the implements and the material together for the man to violate law; the person who, possibly under financial stress, buys these materials and combines them with heat and produces the liquor; or the one who takes it then and distributes it to the customer for gain. They are links in the same chain, and if one of those links or parties is committing a crime the other two are.

Incidentally, if one of them escapes punishment, there is rather a feeling in the public that the others should also escape. Either all should obey or none should obey. The Supreme Court says all must obey.

State Authors Are Asset

The Commonwealth
"Kipling did much to advertise San Francisco when he said: 'It is a mad city of perfectly mad people.' Joseph Conrad said he received his first inspiration from San Francisco through the appreciation of one of its writers." Thus Redfern Mason, noted writer and music critic of the Examiner, opened his talk to the Club's Section on Music. He continued:

"Here it was Robert Louis Stevenson came and here he wrote, and from here went to Carmel. . . . Helen Hunt Jackson in her 'Ramona'; Norris in his 'Moran of the Lady Letty'; Bret Harte, and innumerable others, have told more of California than all the bought-and-paid-for advertising of any other agency."

Carmel was founded by Frank Powers as a real-estate advertisement. He was clever enough to people it with writers, knowing their appreciation would soon flower into publicity. It pays to exploit the men of letters."

"San Francisco itself is built on advertising. The Forty-niners, the Vigilantes, and other colorful events of early history brought a people of extraordinary character."

"Romance has its money value. Jack London alone brought more energy and imaginative youth to California through his stories than any organized advertising campaign ever launched."

Happily, California has abounded in good writers who have sung her charms throughout the world. Business men should recognize the value of romance in business."

Some Events That May Have Brought America

San Francisco Chronicle
May in America, 1607, Jamestown settled. 1775, Ethan Allen took Ticonderoga "in the name of the great Jehovah and the Continental Congress." 1790, Benjamin Franklin died. 1819, first steamship crossed the Atlantic. 1844, Morse telegraph first used. 1860, Lincoln nominated. 1863, Battle of Chancellorsville and Battle of the Wilderness, just historical dates now but live news then. 1865, last skirmish of the Civil war, which had formally ended with Lee's surrender more than a month before. 1889, Johnstown flood. 1896, Dr. Langley tried out his airplane, the "flying contraption he thought would fly." Remarkably similar, though more primitive, to the machine in which Byrd flew over the North Pole just thirty years and two days later. 1898, Dewey won the Battle of Manila Bay and we have not settled the Filipino problem yet. 1915, Lusitania sunk by U boat and in the same month two years later, 1917, draft bill was signed. 1926, Byrd's North Polar exhibit. He is on his way home now after having flown over the South Pole. 1927, Lindbergh flew from New York to Paris. 1930, June bridges getting ready for the greatest event in history.

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

CONTINUED

I cannot get excited
When learned people say
A mastodon has been found
Both up and down Broadway.
The news is interesting,
I willingly allow,
But I am, oh, so pleased to know
They're not there now.

I have no doubt that cave-men
Once wandered through my yard,
But now their death upon this earth
I cheerfully regard.
For cave-men bashed folks' heads in
With heavy clubs of wood;
Their ways were bad, and I am glad
They're gone for good.

I like to read in stories
About the dinosaur
Which with one flail of his great tail
Could kill men by the score.
But when, on clay from China
I see a giant track
Where once one was, I smile, because
He can't come back.

I know that men of science
Would fain go back again
To other climes and other times
Where dwelt wild beasts and men.
But I am quite incurious;
Such things would seem quite strange
To us today, and anyway
I hate a change.

"Light Whines and Sneers"

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

What do we need to put an end to this "general movement toward light whines and sneers" about business prosperity? Must we hear the crash of bombs? Can war alone quicken us to concerted action?

During the war we got busy, and we kept busy. Heart, brain, and brawn.

Are the fruits of peace of so little account that we cannot get together and "carry on" to protect them?

Must unemployment and the want and misery that follow in its train don helmets and masquerade before us as an invading army before our imaginations are quickened? Before we see it for the common enemy it is?

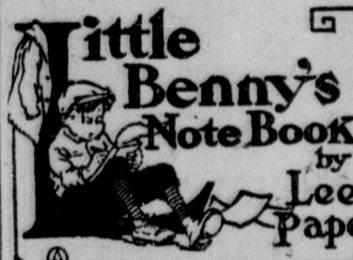

Millions died to make the world safe for Democracy. But the world will never be safe for Democracy, while so many men are ruled by the great autocrat, Poverty.

There must be no limitation of the armaments which are needed to conquer this monster. The war against Poverty cannot be successfully fought by bureaus or commissions alone. It is Every Man's War. If it is to be won, every man must gird up his loins and fight.

Now, at this time, every man or woman who neglects to buy all the goods he needs and can afford, every city and state which employs fewer men than it needs for prudent expansion of public works, every employer who lays off more help than conditions require, is guilty of treason. Treason to the spirit of Democracy.

We have fought one war to end war. Let us not answer "with light whines and sneers" the call to arms in the present war against Poverty.

Me and pop was taking a walk before supper. Me asking more questions than pop answered, and I sed, G. pop, do you know we've passed 7 chewing gum slot machines?

I didn't know it before, but I'll have a redy anser now in case some government official asks me how many chewing gum slot machines we've passed, pop sed.

Well, G. pop, don't you feel like a peecce of chewing gum? I sed, and he sed, No, and I hope I don't look like one either. But can it be that you are suttly leading up to the fact that you want a stick of chewing gum? he sed.

Yes, sir I sed.

Which I was, and pop gave me a cent and I put it in the peppermint slot of the next chewing gum machine we came to, on the more I pushed the thing the more nothing came out, pop saying, This is highway robbery on a small scale and I object to it as a tax payer and the father of a gum chewer.

And he went in the store, being a small size cigar store, the man saying, What can I do for you? and pop saying, You can return a cent that your machine outside joggled up without any adequate return, in fact without any return whatever. G. really, Im sorry but that's not my machine, its owned by a company and I just allow them to use the space, the man sed, and pop sed, Well then we're even, because it wasnt my cent either, it belonged to my son here and I allowed him to trust your soulless machine with it, and how do you expect him to grow up loving and respecting his fellow man and their fellow slot machines after a gassily experience like this?

O for the love of Mike I never herd such a lot of boloney over a cent, heres a cent, heer, take it and plant it in your back yard, the cigar man sed. And he handed pop a cent and pop handed it to me, saying, This do idealists and crusaders suffer for their principals.

Meaning himself, and I put the cent in the next slot machine and that one wouldnt work either, and me and pop took terns pushing the pusher and then pop sed, All rite, leave it, I may be a reformer but Im not a fanatic.

Meaning he wouldnt do anything more about it.

Which he didnt.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

A CULTURAL AUDIT

I am suspicious of all professional uplifters.

I suspect that half or more of the propagandist societies in which banal men and bored wives seek escape from their otherwise rapid and vacuous lives hinder rather than help the elaboration of a rational and humanistic social order.

But the other evening I shared in a conference that seemed to me exempt from this indictment. It was a conference regarding the urgent importance of promoting mutual understanding between the Occidental and the Oriental mind.

The conference interested me as a symbol of that spiritual cross-fertilization between the civilizations of the West and the civilizations of the East upon the success or failure of which may well depend whether the new scientific knowledge, the technological powers, the economic might, and the political ideas and instruments of modern man shall ultimately prove sovereign or servant.

Following the lead of party bosses or personal beliefs, we may be either isolationist or internationalist, but, regardless of our attitude in matters of foreign policy, we of the Western world will find our lives definitely affected by the existing tension between the Occidental and the Oriental philosophy of life and social organization to which I referred yesterday.

The time is ripe for Occidentals and Orientals to sit down together to make cultural audit of their contrasted civilizations, and to ask what each has to contribute to the other's future.

This is not an academic question for Americans.

Entirely aside from the world-economics and world-politics aspects of the existing tension between the West and the East, we are forced to face this question: Shall the future of America be determined by the spiritualism of the East or the materialism of the West, or shall we seek to effect a merger of the two, achieving spiritual power in the midst of material prosperity?

It is, I think, along the latter line that mankind, alike in the West and the East, stands to gain most.

This means that Occidentals and Orientals must turn their attention to a mutually made cultural audit, and must undertake to sharpen their selective sense as they attempt to unite the best of both civilizations.

Only so can we break down the Occidental's skepticism of Oriental value and the Oriental's skepticism of Occidental values.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

SUFFER THE CHILDREN

A mother and little son entered a local train. There were plenty of seats empty and the mother selected one by the side of a woman she greeted as an old friend. The child, very intelligently, seated himself in the empty seat in front of them, stuck his little legs out straight before him and prepared to enjoy himself. Soon he began asking questions.

"Mother, where is the whistle thing? Does the man blow it? How does he blow it when the train is running so fast? Is this a 'lectric train? Can he hitch it up to a battery like mine? Only bigger? I wish I could see how he does it."

"Keep still. Don't you see people looking at you and laughing because you are so silly?"

The child looked about almost shyly but meeting only friendly glances brightened up again and soon began asking about everything he saw.

"Do the people that live in those houses own those dogs? Can you own those dogs if you live in those houses? There goes an airplane. It goes faster than a train, doesn't it? Why can't a train go so fast? A train goes faster than a bird, doesn't it mother?"

"For goodness sake, can't you keep still? Want everybody to know what a foolish child you are? Now don't say another word until we get out."

The abashed child shrank into himself and hid his face under his hat. Only the scarlet tips of his ears showed that there was a humiliated little boy hiding in that overcoat and hat. The further we travelled the smaller he seemed to grow until a friendly soul sat down beside him and devoted his efforts toward bringing the happy child out to the surface once more. No amount of encouragement however, had any success. Crushed flat he stayed flat, behind the muffling coat and smothering hat.

"O don't mind him. He's all right. He would talk you to death if you'd let him," said his mother.

Just why the mother treated the child that way is hard to tell. I thought that it was because she was very self-conscious. She was afraid that the child's chatter would annoy other people. She feared they might think the child a nuisance. She was trying to shield the little boy and herself from the harsh criticism of strangers.

She never meant to hurt the child. She would not willingly strike fear of people into his heart. She would not like to have him shy and fearful. She would feel very badly to see him helpless in the presence of strange people and new experiences. Yet her treatment of him that day would be likely to make him afraid, shy, timid, and helpless in the face of an unfamiliar situation.

Suffer the children. When we undertake the care of a child we pledge ourselves to their service. We answer their questions, we see them through their difficulties of growth, of temperament, adjustment to life at whatever cost. Don't be afraid of other folks' opinions. Children's needs come first and it is usually possible to supply them without causing any discomfort to other people. Even though it is not possible to avoid annoying some adults the child must be served. That is our duty. Most grownup people understand that.

ROBESPIERRE'S BIRTH

On May 6, 1758, Maximilien Robespierre, a leader of the French Revolution, was born at Arras.

After gaining distinction as a lawyer, Robespierre was appointed a criminal judge. He resigned shortly afterward rather than pronounce a death penalty. From law he turned to politics and at the age of 31 entered the States-General, a governing body composed of members elected by the nobility, clergy and commons.

Always adopting the radical view, Robespierre gained prominence by pronouncing a discourse in favor of the abolition of the death penalty. Most of his activity was confined to the Jacobin club, a radical organization, in which he ultimately became the leader. Because of his position there he set about making himself the acknowledged leader also of the people of Paris.

After he was elected the first deputy from Paris in the new national convention, Robespierre was instrumental in causing the execution of King Louis. In 1793, he had executed the chief members of the Girondists, opponents of the Jacobins, because they were not in sympathy with his plans for insurrection. A period of terror followed and thousands of persons were sent to the guillotine.

Finally, a conspiracy was organized against "the tyrant," as Robespierre was later called, and he was executed in July, 1794.
